

ENDORSED BY LABOR

Knights of Labor Stand Firm by President Roosevelt And Denounce Political Trickery--Compliment Senator Hanna and Urge Him as Arbitrator.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Simon Burns, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, returned from Washington, D. C. today, where he had been attending a meeting of the General Executive Board of the following resolutions:

Whereas, the newspapers report that certain labor organizations and their leaders are attempting to have organized labor take up the fight of the enemies of President Roosevelt because of his action in the dispute existing in the Government Printing office in Washington, and believing the president the best friend organized labor ever had in the White House, and the move is a political one in the interest of prominent Republicans, who control some of the labor leaders with a desire to attempt to defeat the nomination of President Roosevelt;

Therefore, he is resolved by the General Executive Board of the Order of Knights of Labor (Incorporated):

That the action taken at this time against President Roosevelt is not in the interest of organized labor, but a political move that, if carried out, will disrupt or lower organizations and injure the members and if the leaders attempt any such action the majority of the members of all organizations, without regard to their political opinions, should refuse to recognize and repudiate such leaders and their action.

He further resolved, That such action as is contemplated against President Roosevelt is one of the many errors and mistakes made by organized labor, as they seem inclined to ignore the rights of others, create strikes and make demands that are unreasonable, relying not on the justice of their contention or claims, but the amount or loss or trouble they can cause others, and to see what they can secure by depending on politicians and not on the justice of their demands.

And be it further resolved, That as Senator Hanna, of Ohio, is said to be a great friend of organized labor, and that he is also considered a loyal supporter and sincere friend of President Roosevelt, we therefore suggest to both sides of the present controversy existing in the printing office that they refer the dispute to Senator Hanna for a decision.

DROPPED DEAD GETTING BREAKFAST

Mrs. George W. Brownfield dropped dead in the kitchen of her home near West Lafayette, Friday while engaged in preparing breakfast. Mrs. Brownfield had arisen early. When her son came down stairs, he heard a heavy fall in the kitchen, and rushed in, to find his mother breathing her last. Heart failure had caused her sudden demise. Beside a devoted husband, there are six children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Brownfield had reached the age of 45 years and was a respected and loved throughout the neighborhood. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock sun time, Rev. Rainesberger of the West Lafayette M. E. church to officiate.

Market a Busy Scene.

This morning's market was a crusher. Forty-two spaces were sold by Chief Mapel. Five meat wagons were in the long line which reached from Third to Fourth street. One man disposed of a wagon load of potatoes at 50 cents a bushel in less than five minutes. The price of potatoes ranged from 50 to 80 cents. Chickens sold at from 9 to 13 cents a pound and corn went rapidly at 12 cents per dozen.

ROSCOE POSTOFFICE ENTERED LAST NIGHT AND MONEY AND STAMPS TAKEN TO AMOUNT OF SIXTY DOLLARS; POSTMASTER JACOBS SUSPECTS SMOOTH STRANGER

The village post office at Roscoe was robbed some time between the hours of eight p. m. and six-thirty a. m., Friday night, and Uncle Sam's treasury is poorer by at least $60. The thief carried out his plans successfully. He escaped as mysteriously as he came, and may bother the authorities in capturing him.

Got Through Window.

An entrance to the postoffice was gained by placing a step ladder against the north side of the building and raising a window, about twelve feet from the ground.

The postoffice is situated near the center of the business part of the town and rests on the bank of the canal. LeRettley's grocery occupies the next building on the north, but a vacant lot intervenes. The step ladder had been carried to the side of the building and rested on the vacant lot. It is thought the spring, which fastened the window-catch was out of repair and that the thief had no difficulty in raising the window. At least the catch was broken this morning.

Postmaster Talks.

B. F. Jacobs, who has been the village postmaster since 1897 related to The Age, this morning, that he locked up the postoffice as usual and went to his home nearby.

According to his usual custom he came to the postoffice about half past six, this morning, and upon opening the office, was astonished to find the floor of the postoffice and the adjoining room in the rear, literally strewn with torn letters and empty envelopes. The rear room of the building is used by Mr. Jacobs as a barber shop.

Letters Torn Open.

The postoffice boxes had been emptied and each letter torn in a thorough search for plunder.

The window through which the entrance was gained, opens into the rear room. The midnight visitor had entered the postoffice proper in the front room, by crawling through the money order window, which is never locked.

Once within the sacred precincts of Uncle Sam's private sanctuary the bold disciple of Jesse James made himself at home most emphatically. He went through the money drawer and found fifty dollars in silver. Then he gathered up five or six dollars worth of postage stamps, probably just for the sake of letting mother know he was well each day.

Overlooked a Chance.

He neglected to look in a table drawer, however, where the bulk of the stamps are kept and missed a neat haul thereby.

Not satisfied with what Uncle Sam could furnish him, after hastily looking over Roscoe's Saturday mail in hopes that a stray ten dollar bill might float out, he looked over Mr. Jacobs' tonsorial department and selected six likely looking razors and tucked them into his pocket. Out of the generosity of his heart he left the shaving mugs and soap and a few dirty towels, probably deeming it advisable to leave a nest egg for some future haul.

Nothing but the tracks of buggy wheels in front of the building this morning gave any evidence of how the thief came and went and even these are not conclusive. Mr. Jacobs, however, believes he has another clue, which lead to the capture of the postoffice robber.

Stranger Appeared.

Friday afternoon a moderately well dressed stranger stepped into the office and asked for change for a two dollar bill. Mr. Jacobs handed him two silver dollars and the stranger walked out. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs were both in the office at the time and Mrs. Jacobs remarked that the stranger did not possess the most genial nature imaginable.

"He don't even thank a person" Mr. Jacobs remarked.

Then he followed the stranger to the door and watched him go up the street and enter LeRettley's store. He left there and wandered to Randle's restaurant but came back to LeRettley's a short time afterwards and purchased some bananas.

A number of people noticed him and he seems to have been a stranger to all of them. Nothing more has been seen of him and the finger of suspicion points at him. He is described by Mr. Jacobs as being perhaps five and a half feet tall, of heavy build, dark complexion and wearing a dark moustache. His clothes were dark and he wore a soft hat.

The Coshocton police were notified and descriptions have been sent to neighboring towns. The offense is a grave one in the eye of the law.

DUSKY DAME SAYS HE'S HERS

United States Army Officer Claimed as Husband by Frisky Filipino Widow.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 26.—With a Filipino woman claiming that he is a husband and a father. First Lieutenant Sidney R. Burbank, Sixth Infantry, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, betrothed to a society girl of this city, filed suit to annul a pretended marriage with Mrs. Concepcion Vazquez.

The beginning of this suit is the outcome of a charge made by Mrs. Vazquez to the war department last spring that Lieutenant Burbank was married to her while in the Philippine Islands and that she was his lawful wife and wanted him to support her. The first notice of this alleged marriage was made public after the announcement of the betrothal of Lieutenant Burbank to a society girl of Leavenworth. The story of the Filipino marriage of Lieutenant Burbank, which he says is a fraud, comes from Valladolid province, where Lieutenant Burbank was in command of a garrison of United States troops in 1901. Mrs. Vazquez, who was a widow with three small children, lived in the village where the garrison was situated.

Lieutenant Burbank came to Fort Leavenworth a year ago and a report followed him that he was married to a Filipino woman and was the father of a new-born baby. The Filipino widow followed this by filing copies of documents pretending to be a marriage contract with Lieutenant Burbank. To offset this Lieutenant Burbank and Corporal Burns sent affidavits to the war department stating that Lieutenant Burbank was not in the village, but on a campaign, at the date of the pretended marriage. Also that the pretended marriage was a fraud and any documents to back it were forgeries.

It is said that Lieutenant Burbank's solution of the affair is that a justice of the peace where Burbank commanded troops was imprisoned for insubordination; that the justice had charge of the records and that in his eagerness to get even with Lieutenant Burbank he permitted the woman to apply and to make out a marriage certificate. His object in filing the suit here is to clear his record.

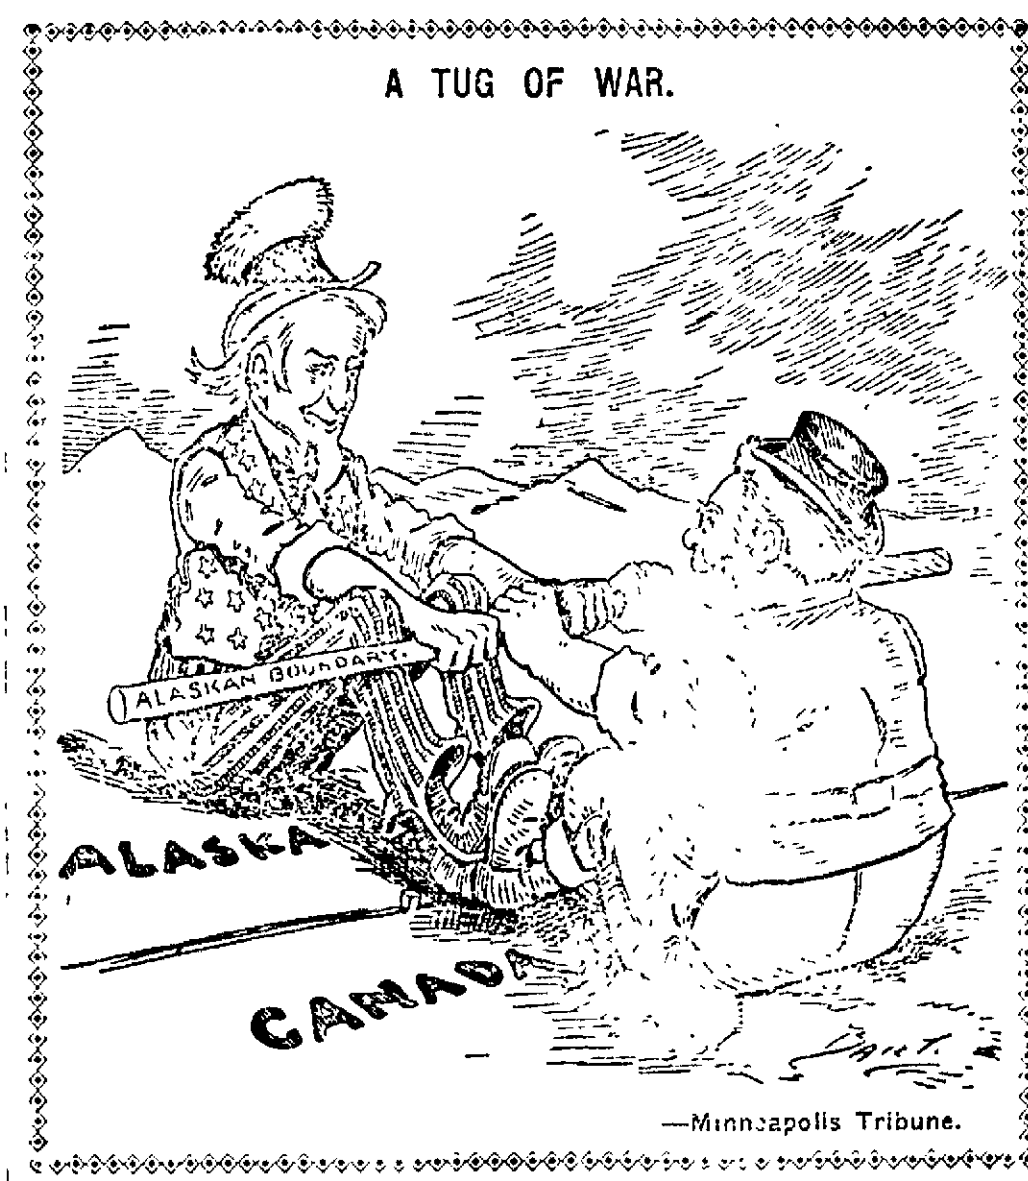

Under the Kansas divorce laws the woman has 40 days in which to answer. She will not have time to answer, as it would require at least three months to prepare any defense and file it by a person now in the Philippines.

Small Fire At Steel Works.

A small fire which might have proved far more serious was discovered by Officer Fretueg at the Houston Hay Axle works about two o'clock, this morning and extinguished without any alarm being sounded.

Straw Crop Burned.

James Rodgers, who dwells near West Lafayette, lost twenty tons of new straw Friday on his farm near Morgan Run. The straw is said to have caught fire from the spark of a passing locomotive, and went up in smoke.

POSTAL DEPARTMENT FRAUDS REACH CLEAR ACROSS THE CONTINENT

San Francisco Inspector Denies Connection With Crooked Work.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—James R. Erwin, indicted postal inspector, pleaded innocence before United States Commissioner Heacock. He desired to show why he should not be held for trial in Washington and made a complete statement of his connection with the alleged postoffice frauds. He denied the charges specifically and then told of his knowledge of and connection with the affair. Erwin had notebooks and memoranda to verify what he said. He did not deny a knowledge of the sale of the patented letter box attachments and a compliance with the schemes of the local office whereby they developed the service and sold them to the government. Erwin said that he never had anything officially to do with the acceptance and installment of the devices. The attachments are now in use in several cities. Erwin said that as assistant general superintendent of free delivery he induced the use of the devices. The number in use under his direction, he said, was 1,000 or 1,100. He asserted positively, however, that he never knowingly defrauded the government and that the total of his earnings from the Postal Device and Improvement company was $96.

Talking It Over.

The Democratic county central committee held a meeting at the Democrat and Standard office, this afternoon, at one o'clock.

A team composed of husky high school youngsters went to West Lafayette today to try conclusions with the high school boys of that place. Homer Swihart is the twirler of the local aggregation.

HIS NERVE SAVED TRAIN

Engineer Dashed by Clumsy Danger Signal of Robbers.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 26.—Because the trained eye of Engineer George W. Boss recognized in the awkward swing of a lantern the work of a novice, he pulled the throttle wide open and drove his train swiftly by a danger signal set dead against him and frustrated what is believed to have been an attempt to hold up the boat train at Plummers Lodge, a lonely spot a mile north of Whitins Station, on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Four cars full of passengers unconscious of probable peril were landed safely in Providence, and the engineer, who had assumed an awful responsibility, went to the office of Superintendent A. R. Whaley to report that he had matched his judgment against the ironclad orders of the road and won. That there was a deliberate attempt by 10 men to hold up the train there is little doubt.

Took Second Money.

John M. Adams' stallion, Clayono Chief, took second money in the 2:35 trot at the Marion County fair, Friday.

TIN CAN TRUST UNFOLDS TALE

Stockholder Enters Suit and Says Assets are 70 Million Less Than Capital.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—F. Schoenfeld, a stockholder of the American Can company, the so-called tin can trust, has by his counsel filed a bill before Vice Chancellor Grey of Camden which makes sensational disclosures.

An injunction is asked to restrain the payment of the 2 1/2 per cent dividend by the board of directors on the company's preferred stock. The matter will come before the vice chancellor on Monday, Sept. 28. The bill among other things charges fraud in the organization of the company and overcapitalization, that the tangible assets are not worth more than $10,000,000, whereas the company is capitalized at $82,500,000; that while the company acquired 123 plants, it has been operating only 30, and according to its last showing only earned 4 per cent on the total amount of its value of $22,000,000.

It is allowed that the payment of the dividend would be an impairment of its capital. The bill also prays that the stock which is alleged to have been fraudulently issued and which, it is said, went as bonus, profit or awarded to the promoters, be annulled if still in their hands, otherwise that they be required to account for the money. The president of the company is F. A. Asmann of New York.

TRINWAY GRAVEL FOR THE WABASH

William Timmons, of the firm of McKinney & Timmons, of Zanesville, was in Trinway Thursday to engage men to load gravel on the cars from their pits at Trinway says the Dresden Transcript. This firm have sold to McArthur Bros. railroad construction contractors, 410 tons, or about 150 cars of Trinway gravel to be used in concrete work on the new Wabash lines. The gravel is to be delivered between Roseville and Crooksville, and between Crooksville and Sayre, and will be used in the concrete work of culverts, bridges, etc.

COPPERHEAD SNAKE KILLED IN CITY

A large copper head snake was killed late Friday afternoon by Mrs. Ed. Carroll at her home on Orange street near the Coshocton Lumber company. Mrs. Carroll had just stepped from her back door into the yard when she espied the snake. With rare presence of mind she hastily secured something with which to kill it. It measured 29 inches in length. This is the second snake Mrs. Carroll has dispatched in her yard this summer.

SHAKING UP BONES

Fraud and Conspiracy Charged, and Six Indictments Returned Against Municipal Officers By Detroit Grand Jury--Payrolls Said To Have Been Stuffed.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 26.—Municipal affairs, the department of public works particularly, has been the subject of investigation by a grand jury which has resulted in the return of six indictments.

Five of indictments returned were made public in court and they name the following persons: D. W. H. Moreland, formerly commissioner of public works, recently removed from office by the council; Herman Wartell and T. J. White, formerly employees of the public works department under Moreland; John Hock, a former department of works employee and contractor, and Henry Merdian, a contractor, and his associate, Robert Conway. Moreland is named in each of the five indictments read in court. Two of the indictments charge him with conspiracy to defraud and the other three with misappropriation and converting property of the city to the use of others.

In the first of the indictments alleging conspiracy it is charged that Moreland, Merdian, Conday, Wartell and White conspired in March, 1902, to defraud the city of $1,000 through the payrolls of the department of public works for street sweeping and teaming, and in the second that Moreland, with Wartell, White and Hock, conspired in the same month to defraud the city out of $1,000 through street sweeping and teaming bills. The other three indictments charge Moreland, under a special statute, with converting 1,735 feet of Medina curbstones, valued at $800, to Thomas J. Kennedy; with converting 1,052 cubic yards of sand worth $500 to Henry Merdian & Co., and with converting 100 yards of crushed stone worth $400 to John Archer and John Hock.

Mr. Moreland came into court, and when asked to plead stood mute on the advice of his attorney. The judge accordingly entered a plea of not guilty and fixed Mr. Moreland's bail on all five indictments at $6,600. It was given. John Hock was also in court and gave bail in the sum of $1,800. Warrants for the arrest of the other indicted men were issued and placed in the hands of the sheriff. None of them has been arrested.

Mayor Many Times Indicted.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 26.—Mayor Francis M. Menke of Mattoon was indicted by a grand jury on 29 counts charging him with malfeasance and misfeasance in office. He was arrested and bond was fixed at $2,500. Menke secured bondsmen and his trial was set for next week. One of the charges against Menke is that he entered into a conspiracy with Dr. Pinkstaff to secure money from the demerits of Mattoon. It is said that the physician divided fees for weekly physical examination certificates with the mayor. Mayor Menke is accused of entering into contracts with gaming houses, immoral places and Sunday saloons. Two Mattoon newspapers have been urging that action be taken against Menke. He visited both offices and threatened bodily injury to the editors, but elicited additional denunciatory editorials.

Lost Valuable Horse.

John Stuckum, the well known farmer residing near the county infirmary lost a valuable driving horse this week. The animal was frisky when a lad went to the pasture to get her, and in some manner fell and broke her leg. Mr. Stuckum had the faithful creature shot, to end her misery. He valued the animal at $200.

JOHNSON AS RINGMASTER OF THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

George Marvin Tells How The Hippodrome Is Being Received Over The State---Poor Lentz.

GEORGE U. MARVIN.

It was a somewhat difficult matter he undertook at the state convention when Mr. Clark, a corporation attorney and a pronounced advocate of sound money, was made a candidate upon a platform dictated by Mr. Bryan and overloaded with endorsements in favor of his political theories. But Johnson forced it through, and it seemed to give him courage. Within a day or two he bolted the action of his own convention by declaring in a farmers' picnic, held at Silver Lake, Summit county, that he would not abide by the attitude of the Democratic delegates in reference to the governor's veto, but he would vote with the Republicans to that extent. From that time on wherever he has gone in his red automobile and the shadow of his tent he has mingled rebuke to the Democrats as freely as he has denounced the Republicans. This may seem good to him and perhaps, according to his ethics, shrewd politics. Moreover what he says about the Democrats may all be true. Being a Democrat himself, he ought to know.

But over in Richland county there are those of his faith who differ. Listen to the remarks of a Democrat from Mansfield who was at Chillicothe, a Democrat of the old before-the-war type to whom Andrew Jackson is the embodiment of all political virtue. The question "What effect has the action of Johnson had in your county? How do the friends of Earnhart like it?" was put direct. To repeat him literally would perhaps be more effective but hardly allowable. Stripped of adjectives and expletives, his reply in substance was as follows: It has all the earmarks of a genuine Democratic statement.

"I believe that the Republicans will carry Richland county this fall, and if they do, Johnson will be to blame. Why, does he think he can come over there and dictate our policy? What business was it of his whom we nominated for the legislature? We knew politics before he was born, and if we wished to send Earnhart back it was none of his business. Perhaps we wouldn't but it was no affair of his. There is one thing sure—the man he has nominated won't come to Columbus. That's as certain as taxes. What Earnhart does to him will be a plenty. Why, (as he brought his hand down on his knee) I have voted the Democratic ticket for a good many years, but I don't vote for him or his crowd this fall. Now, just look at it. There he has been hobnobbing with Bryan and talking about free silver and single tax and denouncing corporations. Then what does he do but put up a man for the senate who is one of the great corporation lawyers of the state and believes in gold. He even bolted the ticket in 1904 and boasted about it. Bryan comes along and swallows him and the rest of us are expected to do so. None of it for me, and there are many more feeling just the same way in my county. Keep your eye on Richland and see what it does."

Johnson is a bold man. He plays politics as a gambler plays his game and stakes all on the throw of a single card. But this year he has overshot the mark. In the language of the little boy, "What happens to him will be a plenty." There was no expectation that the McLean people would receive Mr. Johnson and the action of his convention with any great demonstration of joy except as they knew it spelled defeat in advance. But that they would seek the grindstone and begin the work of sharpening knives with such feverish haste was hardly to be looked for. From the time, however, that Johnson began his spectacular tour of the state until the present, the old McLean guard has been camping on his trail. Every one of his old leaders, and good fighters they are, is open in his opposition. There is no hiding under a cloak and no attempt to conceal.

The McLean people are against Johnson and his crew from captain down to deck hand, and will gleefully assist in making him only a memory in the political history of the state. When the convention met McLean himself was basking in the sun of foreign lands. He let Johnson go without hindrance, knowing he would work his own damnation. For fear however, that this may not come sufficiently soon, he and his friends propose now to help the culmination along. In every nook and corner of the state where followers of McLean can be found, there also can be found a denouncer of Johnson and his platform.

John J. Lentz, of Columbus, that faithful follower of Bryan, that earnest disciple of free silver, he of the sudden conversion, is wondering, with good cause, as to exactly where he is at. Mr. Lentz was really the subject of a most unkind and heartless act. After clinging to the skirts of his chieftain with splendid zeal, and after permitting himself to be made the mark for attack from every quarter, he was turned down and thrown out at the first opportunity presented for reward. Lentz desired to be endorsed for senator. It was the burning ambition of a patriotic heart; the one goal toward which his eyes looked. Yet when the time came he was pushed aside and another given the prize. To add to his humiliation, the one selected was of the other faction of the party—an advocate and a follower of sound money. Could anything have been more unkind? It was the superlative degree of political ingratitude. Anyone who is now suffering from chills can find immediate relief and permanent cure by calling upon the Columbus statesman and making mention of Mr. Johnson and the state convention. There was not the shadow of excuse presented for his overthrow. His own county delegates, many of whom had been his political opponents, endorsed him to a man. He therefore went into the convention with a solid delegation back of his candidacy. No explanation of it was offered. The knockout blow was simply delivered, and ten counted while Clarke was pronounced the victor.

In like manner, though in a somewhat lesser degree, Hon. Harvey Garber has been the victim of the political siletto. Garber last year was the chairman of the state executive committee, the manager of Johnson's campaign. This year he has been relegated to the rear, though not entirely ignored. To placate his feelings and create a less intense opposition among his friends, it is announced that he will have charge of the legislative fight. What a hollow honor! With these things going on in the full light of publicity, where all may see, is it any wonder there are those who rise up and cry against the Cleveland mayor and his ways?

A SUMMER TRIP UNSURPASSED ON THE CONTINENT.

The trip to Salt Lake City or to the Pacific coast via that point over the Denver Rio Grande System, "The Scenic Line of the World," is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature, sunny climate and its Great Salt Lake—deader and denser than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water, a mile above the sea level and, in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest agent for low tourist rates to Salt Lake City, or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City, the City of the Saints," to S. K. Socialism and Single Tax the Democratic Issues.

Accumulating Proofs That Tom Johnson Is Using the Ohio Democracy to Boost His Own Pet Fads Against Its Principles.

The announcement that the Democratic state committee will endeavor to induce the Ohio Socialists to withdraw their ticket from the field in the interest of Tom L. Johnson should occasion not the slightest surprise in any quarter. In this campaign the two parties—the Democrats and the Socialists—stand for substantially the same things. The only important difference is that the Johnsonized Democracy, while it lays stress upon the doctrines of Socialism, pushes the single tax issue to the fore.

The platform which Tom L. Johnson forced upon the recent Democratic state convention was framed by Louis F. Post, the well-known Socialist of Chicago. Post is also the author of a circular, 5,000,000 copies of which will be distributed throughout the state by the Democratic executive committee. Johnson's speeches teem with Socialism. He and his prototype, Colonel Bryan, have led the party which was founded and which grew to greatness upon the principle of individualism to a point where today it stands for collectivism. The free silver craze which swept over the party seven years ago is a mere incident to this fundamental change.

The Ohio Democracy, under the leadership of Johnson, stands today for another false doctrine as foreign as Socialism to its first principles. Its foremost issue is the single tax, which, briefly stated, would lay the whole burden of taxation upon the holders of land. Under such a system, the millionaire owner of stocks and bonds, of towering office buildings, of any sort and any amount of personal property, would pay no taxes, while the farmer, or the small householder would support the national, state and municipal government.

Johnson himself is one of the most prominent single taxers in the United States. When the late Henry George was making his canvass for the New York mayoralty on a single tax platform, Johnson went through the campaign with him, making many speeches in advocacy of the theory. Henry George died suddenly a day or two before the election. His place on the ticket was taken by his son, who bears his father's name. Today Henry George, Jr., single taxer, is touring Ohio with Johnson, urging his theories upon his audience and advocating Johnson's election to the governorship. George opened the Democratic campaign with Johnson and he expects to remain in Ohio until election day, working for the success of his fellow single taxer, Tom L. Johnson.

The candidacy of Johnson and the appearance of George in Ohio are not the only evidences of the effort to make the single tax share with Socialism the first place among the Democratic issues in this state campaign. J. B. Vining, secretary and treasurer of the Ohio Single Tax League, who has been rewarded for his allegiance to the theory by a salaried position in the Johnson city government in Cleveland, has prepared a quantity of single tax literature for general circulation as campaign documents. Here in Franklin county Johnson asks the voters to support for the legislature Frank H. Howe, one of the most radical single tax advocates in Ohio.

The sporadic efforts of the Democratic stump speakers to make it appear that they are waging their fight chiefly on state issues should blind no intelligent man to the facts. Johnson is the Ohio Democracy this year. And Johnson is a Socialist and a Single Taxer. We leave it to the intelligence of the user of Ohio whether they are willing to turn the state government over to an advocate of these theories. —Ohio State Journal.

ABSOLUTE HOME RULE

Recently Illustrated Right in Johnsonstown.

Had There Been No Higher Authority to Protect Them, One-Fifth of Her People Would Have Ruled the Rest Without Remedy.

"We favor absolute home rule, for counties, cities and villages, with reference to their local affairs." Such is the emphatic and distinct declaration of the Johnson state platform masquerading as a Democratic document. Since the entire Johnson campaign is simply a scheme to spread Cleveland's purely "local affairs" over the entire state to the exclusion of every other interest, and even to capture offices of national importance by ignoring national questions, it is really seen that his declaration refers first of all to Cleveland matters. Therefore, it is just as well for the state to study the Cleveland situation. The so-called federal plan had a long trial in Cleveland, and the results carefully considered are distinctly against it. Johnson today, as mayor under the new municipal code, is exercising more autocratic authority than any Ohio city outside of Cleveland ever saw. Whatever is done in Cleveland is Johnsonism pure and simple, and completely illustrates the dose that Johnson desires to give in "absolute home rule" for counties, cities and villages.

The most recent and conspicuous illustration has been the special bond election, about which Johnson has been blubbering with crocodile tears. His grief may be pretty sincere after all, however, for one of his pet games has been blocked. His heart is set on experimenting with an electric lighting plant at the city's expense. To get it started, he wants the city to borrow $100,000. Those who have studied the subject as they would any business problem, to learn its actual merits, declare that ten times this sum, or $4,000,000, will be needed to complete the plant and get it in full operation for every part of the city. All that Johnson asks this time, however, is $400,000 in bonds. This was first with him of the six items involved in the voting by the people of Cleveland upon issuing bonds to the amount of $1,900,000. The aggregate ultimate expense of all these improvements will be $15,000,000. Johnson wanted the vote taken at a special election. Having a majority in the city council, he had it so ordered. Under the "absolute home rule," the Johnson platform demands there would have been no remedy for this wrong.

However, this is still the state of Ohio, and the city of Cleveland is only a fraction and not the whole thing, as yet. There is still a tribunal here with power and purpose to deal justly and to protect the people against their rulers when the latter do wrong as as Johnson was doing in this matter. Citizens and taxpayers of Cleveland, finding that they would be disfranchised by the Johnson plan, and that the Johnson special election would shut out more than 60,000 citizens of Cleveland from any opportunity even to vote upon these issues, involving the immense ultimate outlay of $15,000,000, asked the assistance of the supreme court of Ohio. They requested that tribunal to restrain the Cleveland city authorities from the great wrong that the latter were about to inflict upon four-fifths of the voters of Cleveland. Their case was so clear that the court promptly granted the relief requested. Had there been "absolute home rule," nothing whatever could have been done. No remedy would have existed.

As it is, the people will now have their election in such a way that all of them will have a chance to vote. By Johnson's special election plan the law allowed only one voting booth to each ward. Johnson knew this and took advantage of it. He could easily have had the vote appointed for the regular election, but he did not want it that way. With all the people voting, as would then be the case, he might lose at the polls. "Absolute home rule" would have made him absolute dictator. The election will now be held, however; the Republicans and anti-Johnson Democrats in council having voted promptly to appoint it in connection with the regular November election. Then every precinct will have its own voting place, every man will have his chance to put in his ballot, and Johnson's scheme to disfranchise four-fifths of them will be foiled.

HIS OWN WORDS.

Johnson Against All Private Land Ownership.

"We Single-Taxers Would Put All Taxes on the Value of Lands, and Would Ask No Exemption For Small Holders."

Tom Johnson is an ardent student, an enthusiastic worshiper and a faithful follower of Henry George, whose doctrines he has eagerly imbibed and no less loudly proclaimed as a part of his own political creed.

In a speech which he delivered at Wooster, O., Monday night, Oct. 6, 1902, Johnson said: "The philosophy of Henry George is the sovereign remedy for existing evils in both state and national affairs."

His consistency is shown in that he industriously practices what he preaches. When a member of the Fifty-third congress, he used his franking privilege as a member of the house to send Henry George's book, "Progress and Poverty," through the mails free of postage.

In that congress Johnson spoke and voted with five other members in favor of a single-tax measure and 150 voted against it. That measure provided "that a direct tax of $1,311,125 be and is hereby annually laid upon land values in the United States, and apportioned to states, territories and the District of Columbia according to population by the census of 1900; that the said direct tax shall be assessed and laid on the value of all land, exclusive and irrespective of the improvements thereon;" and "that all land subject to taxation under this act shall be assessed and valued for the purpose of taxation at its full market value."

Upon this measure Tom Johnson spoke as follows: "Mr. Chairman, I desire to put on record the names of the gentlemen who have had the foresight and patriotism to vote for this single-tax amendment." Having named the five gentlemen who voted with him he further declared, according to the Congressional Record, that "we take for use of the people what the people themselves have created. As a matter of equal right we ought to take it all." "We should take what the growth of community creates, and that is the proper and sufficient subject of all taxation. That is what we mean by the single tax. It may be manifold in the uses made of it, but it comes from a single source—the growth and improvement of the community. By the single tax we mean not that there is to be one single purpose for which revenue is to be raised, but one single source from which it is to be obtained."

"We single taxers, who would put all taxes, national, state, county and municipal on the value of land, irrespective of improvements, ask no exemptions for small holders."

This is the Henry George doctrine straight from the shoulder and with a vengeance. There shall be "no exemptions of small holders."

As the majority holders in this country are "small holders," Tom Johnson, according to his own statement and vote, proposes to saddle upon them the necessary tax to support the "national, state, county and municipal" governments. The purpose of this legislation, as admitted by Johnson and his coadjutors, is "to take the whole burden of taxation for national, state, county and municipal purposes off of industry, commerce and consumption and levy it upon the rental value of land, irrespective of improvements. And it is shown by the record that the single tax agitator declared that this is only the beginning of raising all the government revenue of raising all the government expenses of every description by the direct land tax, on the "full market value," and that too, "without exemptions for small holders."

Today Tom Johnson is the political boss and leading candidate of what he styles the Democracy of Ohio, and he proposes to use that party, as far as possible, in advancing this pernicious doctrine. Are the Democratic farmers of Ohio ready to submit to the confiscation of the land that they have purchased by the sweat of honest toil, to the machinations of the worst political deceiver and demagogue of the twentieth century? This is not at all likely, if they study the features of this damnable heresy.—Dayton Press.

VAIN BLUBBERS.

Johnson's Woe Because All Clevelanders Will Vote.

He Schemed to Keep Four-Fifths of Them From Voting on Issues Involving $15,000,000, But the People Protected Themselves in Spite of Him.

In spite of the Tom Johnson attempt to prevent 60,000 or more of the citizens of Cleveland from voting upon the six propositions to add $1,900,000 to the bonded debt of that city, simply to begin certain improvements, which their best business men tell them will cost fully $15,000,000 to finish, the people of Cleveland are going to have a chance for all of them at the polls, to take action upon these most important questions. By the unanimous vote of the Cleveland council, every Republican and every anti-Johnson Democrat voting for the election, it will be held at the time of the November election, when every citizen will be sure of his opportunity to express his opinion by his ballot without delay or hindrance.

This could never have been done at the special election which Johnson wanted and ordered the council to appoint for a date in September, knowing full well that it would be absolutely impossible for four men out of five to get any chance at all to put in their vote on the questions involved. He knew that the law provided for only one election precinct in each ward in the case of a vote on a bond issue at a special election. He knew that this very fact would disfranchise more than 60,000 of Cleveland's 75,000 voters. He funds fault with the statute, but there was no law compelling him to hold this election on some special date. He was perfectly free all the time to have the vote taken when all of Cleveland's citizens could vote. Certainly the November election this year will be exciting and closely contested in Cleveland, with about all the candidates from that city, and an immense poll may be expected.

Since Johnson fought so strenuously to the very last against having the election for $1,900,000 worth of bonds held at the November election, did he presume that the excitement would bring out too big a vote that day? At the general election the voting would be done in the precincts, and every ballot can be cast. Every citizen, and particularly every taxpayer, will have a fair chance to express his opinion, and that is just what Johnson does not want. He poses as the people's friend, and if he had been a true friend of the people, he never would have been a party to this scheme to disfranchise them. But he had one or two pet plans for spending public money, and he did not dare to trust these to a vote by all the people of Cleveland. With only a fifth of the voters at the polls, he might be able to carry the day, and so he insisted upon a special election for that fifth only.

Johnson might fool some of the people of Cleveland part of the time, but he could not fool all of them all of the time. Enough of them, both Democrats and Republicans, saw the shrewdness of his scheme and took steps to block his game. It was this appeal from the people, from the men who will have to pay the bills for Johnson's experiments, which prevailed against him. Powerless to protect themselves from his tyranny locally, they invoked the aid of the supreme court of Ohio. Home rule of the extreme kind demanded by the Johnson platform would have put them absolutely remedy. The supreme court, however, saw the justice of their case, and tied Mr. Johnson's hands with the injunction that he has been blubbering about. He pretends that it prevents him from having a vote on the improvements. Nothing of the sort has been done. He tried to rob 60,000 Clevelanders of any chance to vote. The supreme court having opened the way, the Republicans and anti-Johnson Democrats in the Cleveland council at once provided for an election with a full ballot of all of Cleveland's 75,000 voters.

Conference at Akron Receives Large Gift From An Unknown.

A dispatch from Akron in the Cleveland Leader says:

The principle business of the third day's session of the East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was the presentation of reports by the presiding elders of the different subdistricts. From all of them came the same assurances of prosperous years and bright prospects.

An unknown donor has presented the conference with $10,000 to be used in the support of orphans of superannuated ministers of the conference. A committee will be named which will devise means for the disposition of the money.

Salem Kile, of this city, will probably be the Akron delegate to the General Conference of the church in Los Angeles, Cal., next year. He has no opposition, but the fight for the rest of the places on the delegation will probably be a spirited one. Six laymen and six ministers from this conference will be selected as delegates.

Rev. T. C. Ihff addressed the conference, and tonight the annual celebration of the Freeman's Aid and Southern Educational Society was celebrated. Dr. Davidson addressed this meeting, the regularly assigned speaker, Rev. C. B. Mason, D. D., the noted colored divine, not being able to be present.

LOW FARES TO NEWARK. Excursion tickets to Newark, account fair, will be sold September 29th to October 2nd, inclusive, from Coshocton, Columbus and intermediate ticket stations on the Pennsylvania lines.

Work on the Canadian building at the world's fair was begun last week. The structure is to be 100 feet square, two stories high and surrounded by a portico. It will be finished by Dec. 1. Its cost is $25,000.

Illinois is making a good start on her state building on the hill south of the Palace of Machinery at the world's fair.

Among the interesting things from Rhode Island at the world's fair will be a solid silver writing table and chair on which two years' solid labor has already been expended in engraving and chasing.

Porto Rico will show visitors to the world's fair at St. Louis the excellence of the coffee grown on their island by distributing free 50,000 packages of roasted and ground coffee.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight, Sunday fair and cooler

A STITCH IN TIME.

Excuse has been made that the difficulty in repairing a sheet asphalt pavement, is that most towns are remote from the asphalt plants. Coshocton is lucky. Chestnut street's pavement is in a terrible condition, and the cement patches that have been put on won't last until the ice of November. But the Barber Asphalt Paving company of Cleveland has a force of men at work on Fourth street preparing it for a sheet asphalt pavement. It is the opportunity for the local authorities to have Chestnut street repaired at little extra expense, and have it done right and permanently.

FAMILY STRANGELY
PURSUED BY DEATH

William Zetty, who has been suffering with consumption for the past year, passed away at his home on Vine street, Saturday morning at one o'clock. His age was twenty-six years and ten months. The visitations of death to the Zetty family have been strangely frequent in the past year. Within a period of less than seven months, three have died.
A son, Melvin Zetty, died March 13.
The father, Noah Zetty, was summoned next, on the eighth of June and now another of the boys has been called home. The mother and three sons are still living. One son, Samuel L. Zetty resides in Cleveland.

The other two, Maro and John, live at home.

William Zetty was a structural bridge worker and was a member of the Structural Bridge Workers' union at Pittsburg. He was well known in Coshocton, especially among the young men. He gained considerable renown here as an amateur baseball pitcher. He was born near Keene and lived at Canal Lewisville most of his life. He came to Coshocton last April and was taken bedfast in June. He was a companionable, free hearted boy and was well liked by all who knew him.
Funeral services will be conducted at the Canal Lewisville Baptist church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and interment made at the

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method--
Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly every one who has catarrh you breathe will be found like that knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a health giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

C. E. Anderson sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is that he can perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

STRONGEST EVIDENCE OF FAITH
C. E. Anderson Guarantees That Hyomei Will Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh in Coshocton, Ohio.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Coshocton guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or he will refund the money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that C. E. Anderson is selling Hyomei, the treatment that has made so many remarkable cures of both acute and chronic catarrh in Coshocton and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it by the aid of an inhaler that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone. It cures catarrh of the head and throat, or of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Wherever mucous membrane contains catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air

SOCIETY.
Wedded At Tiffin.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season took place at Tiffin, O., last Wednesday morning when one of Coshocton's prominent young men, Thomas G. McDermott, was united in marriage to Miss Rosa Hosfeld, a charming young lady of that city. Promptly at seven a. m. the bridal party entered St. Joseph's Catholic church. Miss Clara Hosfeld, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Leidy was groomsmen. The bride wore a gown of old rose colored silk and carried a bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in gray nun's veiling. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Haufner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. A sumptuous wedding feast was served to about thirty relatives and friends. The bride and groom left on Wednesday for a few days in Toledo and Detroit and on their return Saturday they will go to Mansfield where a cozily furnished home awaits them.

Mr. and Mrs. McDermott have the best wishes of a host of friends in this city.

Misses Rose and Annie McDermott of this city, sisters of the groom attended the wedding.

The Oyster Supper.

The oyster supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the lecture room was a success in something decidedly new and was a every way. The "trade-last" table was most entertaining piece. The trades were very clever and original and some very happy hits were made as they were tactfully bestowed by the young ladies in charge. A few of them read as follows:

She cast her eyes upon him
And he looked so good and true.
That she thought "I could be happy.
With a gentleman like you."
What a peace comes o'er our soul,
As you play;
How our week day troubles roll--
Quite away;

We forget that we were late.
That our hats are out of date.
That we're nothing when the plate
Comes this way.

The room was artistically decorated with a bounteous supply of flowers and ferns. At noon today the ladies served a lunch which was much appreciated by the hurried business men. The receipts from both supper and luncheon were one hundred dollars.

Rehearsals Celebrate.

A gala event for the order of the Daughters of Rebekah was the celebration Friday evening of their fifty-second anniversary. There was assembled in their hall in Hay building about 120 of the members and their families.

A very interesting program was carried out. Entertaining papers were read by Mrs. Robert Love and Mrs. M. H. Hennel. On the musical program were beautiful instrumental selections by Joseph Wright and daughters and Joseph Keagy; charming piano duets by Mrs. S. M. Snyder and Miss Irma Coe and by Miss Bernice Keagy and Miss Grace Wisenbarg. A piece by little Miss Lucille Hunter on the piano, accompanied by her father Edward Hunter with the mouth harp elicited much applause. Refreshments were served a la Japanese fashion. Those who did not adopt the mode were deprived of supper. It was a delightful evening and enjoyed by everyone.

Thimble Club.

The Thimble club with a number of guests was charmingly entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. C. M. Hay at her home on Elm street.

The afternoon was most delightfully spent and a delicious supper was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Guy Meek. Those present were Mrs. Burt Voorhees, Mrs. Walter Winters, Mrs. William Verrell, Mrs. T. L. Montgomery, Mrs. D. O. Thompson, Mrs. H. T. Weber, Mrs. J. P. Forbes, Mrs. H. B. Hay, Mrs. James Hay, Mrs. R. M. Love, Mrs. James Preston, Mrs. William Compton, Mrs. Elliott, Miss Nellie Cooper, Miss Sadie Smith, Miss Weltha Carr, Miss Louise Glover, Miss Helen Pomeroy and Mrs. Haines, of Memphis, Tenn.

At Cards.

Miss Lucy Beach entertained a few guests at cards Friday evening at her home on South fourth street in honor of her brother, Mr. Clifton C. Beach and his bride.

The evening was pleasantly spent at cards and refreshments were served. Some charming piano selections were given by Miss Adams. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Torrens Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Speckman, Miss Iona Adams, Beryl Shaw and Melville Fisher.

Bowling Party.

The following young people, chaperoned by F. A. G. Lawrence and Miss Edith McNaughton, enjoyed a very pleasant hour at the Parkview Bowling alleys, Friday evening: Misses Daisy Wilcox, Agnes Hanlon, Carrie Patton, Nellie Gosser, Alma Temple, Eleanor Burns, Bessie

will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

"I have known it to cure chronic inflammation of the kidneys, where the attending physician pronounced the case incurable. No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles--less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle--enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." The STAGE

On next Monday night, at the opera house we are to have a revival of that very funny musical farce, "The Two Johns" by J. C. Stewart. When first produced this comedy was one of the best and most successful on the road, and undoubtedly those who have seen it will want to see it again because it has always been clean and witty and not full of those vulgar situations that seem to predominate in the farces of today.

The different characters, from the two fat cousins down to the policeman are all funny and plenty of pretty girls to help in the singing and dancing.

This comedy has been continually presented for ten years in this country and has toured England and Europe for the past ten years, and now returns to us for another tour. There certainly must be merit in a play to have such a continuous run of prosperity.

Alfred G. Robyn, who was one of the first of modern composers to write one of those characteristic and colorful intermezzi, which have since become so popular, has followed up "Mansueto" his first great success in that line by a similar composition though in another vein. This is entitled "San Domingo" and was written as a dance and enable number in the "Yonkee Consul" the new comic opera, which he has written in conjunction with Henry Blossom, Jr. This intermezzo, will doubtless become a favorite with orchestras all over the country, especially in restaurants of popular resort, where it will doubtless take its place beside the over popular intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "La Paloma."

If you happen to see "The Wizard of Oz" company (B) on the road, don't fail to go to the show and hear the new song which has been interpolated, called "That Must Be Love." There was actually some talk of taking this catchy number out of the piece, but Alvin Crater has made such a tremendous hit with it that it has now become recognized as one of the big features of the production.

Most people who have watched the performance of "Arizona" have probably commented on the eccentric make-up of the cowboys who appear in the play and are probably of the opinion that their peculiar manner of dress is the result of vanity. This is not so by any means. Every article of their outlandish costumes are worn for a purpose. Take for instance the high heels worn on their riding boots, these are to prevent the foot from slipping through the stirrup in their mad rides in rounding up a herd of cattle; the leather and wolf skin side breeches are to protect their limbs from the sharp points of the prickly cactus and without the same an ordinary pair of trousers would be torn to tatters. The handkerchief which is always seen about the neck is also useful, as by pulling it up to cover mouth and nostrils it prevents the inhaling of the deadly alkali dust, which gathers in great clouds out on the arid plains. The large sombrero is of course to keep off the hot burning rays of the sun which pours down upon them with a heat like flames from a red hot furnace; so as will be seen by this the costume is all a necessity.

Notice of proposed reinsurance of the Northern Central Life Insurance Company, of Toledo, Ohio, with the Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, Penn'a.

On September 8, the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company filed with Arthur I. Vorys, Supt. of Insurance of the State of Ohio, a petition as authorized by Section No. 3597 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, praying for the approval (or modification thereof) of the agreement made by said Company with the Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company on August 3rd, copy of which agreement was attached to said petition which agreement provides, among other things, that, for the consideration therein named, the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company transferred certain of its assets therein described to and reinsured its policy obligations with the said The Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company.

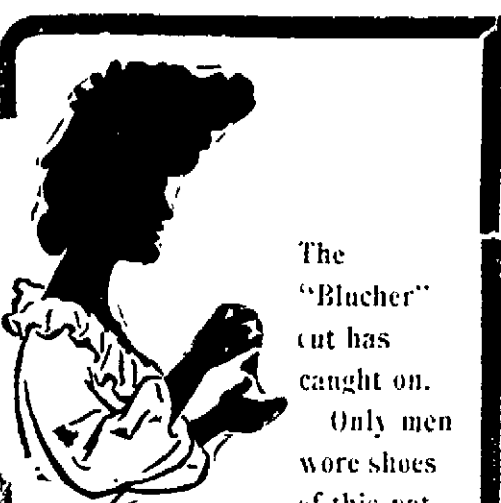

Said Superintendent of Insurance thereupon made his order of notice, fixing Monday, October 5, 1903, at 10 o'clock A. M. and the Office of said Superintendent of Insurance in the State House, at Columbus, Ohio, as the time and place at which said petition shall be heard by the Commission authorized by law to determine upon the same, consisting of the Governor, the Attorney-General and the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, and requiring notice by mail to be given the policyholders of the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company of the pendency of said petition and such hearing and notice of same to be duly published, as required by law.

Any policyholder or stockholder of the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company may appear before said Commission and be heard in reference to said petition. THE NORTHERN CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. By W. S. Matthews, -resident, John P. Slemmons, Secretary. 930.

Fountain Items.

The Big Store is the busiest store of Coshocton today. The hundred of customers that thronged the Fountain Saturday afternoon and evening know by their experience how difficult it was to get waited upon, even though we have a force of thirty people. Well, we are going to have more. We will put 50 sales people behind the counters if necessary to meet the demands of the public. Our constantly increasing business is most gratifying to the management of the Fountain D. G. Co. We believe now most people are glad they have the trading facilities now offered by the Fountain company. We do not believe a single enterprise has been injured by the opening of Coshocton's Big Store—to the contrary new trade is coming to Coshocton. Some people who heretofore have thought it necessary to go out of Coshocton are now being pleased in a most satisfactory way at the Fountain, all for which the Fountain is very thankful. We shall endeavor to conduct the business of the Big Store in such a manner that it will not only command the respect of the people of Coshocton but will bring hundreds of new customers to this market to do their shopping. It is only natural when they come to us for Dry Goods they will also buy Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Hardware, Jewelry and many other items from Coshocton's up-to-date merchants. No town in Ohio offers greater trading facilities in all the branches of commercial enterprise than Coshocton.

New Lines in all Departments.

During the past 10 days we have opened thousands of dollars worth of new merchandise, including Dress Goods, Silk and Velvets, Hosiery, Corsets, Neckwear, Belts, Stick Pins, Hat Pins, Waistings, Flannelettes, Outing Flannel, Muslin, Cambrics, Underwear, Cotton and Wool Draperies, Rugs, Carpets, Suits, Cloaks, Furs and thousands of pieces of New China and House Furnishings. It would be impossible for us to enumerate every item we are showing, but we can assure you at the Fountain you can find one of the largest and best selected stock of goods you ever had the pleasure of looking at. We want you all to come to the Big Store to stop. Make the fountain your stopping place while in the city. You are always welcome. We will do our best to entertain you and make the burden of shopping as pleasant as possible. Trade at the Big Store. We appreciate your custom and will endeavor to give more than one hundred cents worth of goods for every dollar you leave with us. Your servants.

ENDORSED BY LABOR

Knights of Labor Stand Firm by President Roosevelt And Denounce Political Trickery--Compliment Senator Hanna and Urge Him as Arbitrator.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Simon Burns, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, returned from Washington, D. C. today, where he had been attending a meeting of the General Executive Board of the following resolutions:

Whereas, the newspapers report that certain labor organizations and their leaders are attempting to have organized labor take up the fight of the enemies of President Roosevelt because of his action in the dispute existing in the Government Printing Office in Washington, and believing the president the best friend organized labor ever had in the White House, and the move is a political one in the interest of prominent Republicans, who control some of the labor leaders with a desire to attempt to defeat the nomination of President Roosevelt;

Therefore, he is resolved by the General Executive Board of the Order of Knights of Labor (Incorporated):

That the action taken at this time against President Roosevelt is not in the interest of organized labor, but a political move that, if carried out, will disrupt or lower organizations and injure the members and if the leaders attempt any such action the majority of the members of all organizations, without regard to their political opinions, should refuse to recognize and repudiate such leaders and their action.

It is further resolved, That such action as is contemplated against President Roosevelt is one of the many errors and mistakes made by organized labor, as they seem inclined to ignore the rights of others, create strikes and make demands that are unreasonable, relying not on the justice of their contention or claims, but the amount of loss or trouble they can cause others, and to see what they can secure by depending on politicians and not on the justice of their demands.

And be it further resolved, That as Senator Hanna, of Ohio, is said to be a great friend of organized labor, and that he is also considered a loyal supporter and sincere friend of President Roosevelt, we therefore suggest to both sides of the present controversy existing in the printing office that they refer the dispute to Senator Hanna for a decision.

DROPPED DEAD GETTING BREAKFAST

Mrs. George W. Brownfield dropped dead in the kitchen of her home near West Lafayette, Friday while engaged in preparing breakfast. Mrs. Brownfield had arisen early. When her son came down stairs, he heard a heavy fall in the kitchen, and rushed in to find his mother breathing her last. Heart failure had caused her sudden demise. Beside a devoted husband, there are six children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Brownfield had reached the age of 45 years and was a respected and loved throughout the neighborhood. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock sun time, Rev. Rainesberger of the West Lafayette M. E. church to officiate.

Market a Busy Scene.
This morning's market was a crusher. Forty-two apices were sold by Chief Maple. Five meat wagons were in the long line which reached from Third to Fourth street. One man disposed of a wagon load of potatoes at 50 cents a bushel in less than five minutes. The price of potatoes ranged from 50 to 80 cents. Chickens sold at from 9 to 13 cents per pound and corn went rapidly at 15 cents per dozen.

ROSCOE POSTOFFICE ENTERED LAST NIGHT AND MONEY AND STAMPS TAKEN TO AMOUNT OF SIXTY DOLLARS; POSTMASTER JACOBS SUSPECTS SMOOTH STRANGER

The village post office at Roscoe was robbed some time between the hours of eight p. m. and six-thirty a. m., Friday night, and Uncle Sam's treasury is poorer by at least $60. The thief carried out his plans successfully. He escaped as mysteriously as he came, and may bother the authorities in capturing him.

Got Through Window.
An entrance to the postoffice was gained by placing a step ladder against the north side of the building and raising a window, about twelve feet from the ground.

The postoffice is situated near the center of the business part of the town and rests on the bank of the canal. LeRettley's grocery occupies the next building on the north, but a vacant lot intervenes. The step ladder had been carried to the side of the building and rested on the vacant lot. It is thought the spring which fastened the window-catch was out of repair and that the thief had no difficulty in raising the window. At least the catch was broken this morning.

Postmaster Talks.
B. F. Jacobs, who has been the village postmaster since 1897 related to The Age, this morning, that he locked up the postoffice as usual and went to his home nearby.

According to his usual custom he came to the postoffice about half past six, this morning, and upon opening the office, was astonished to find the floor of the postoffice and the adjoining room in the rear, literally strewn with torn letters and empty envelopes. The rear room of the building is used by Mr. Jacobs as a barber shop.

Letters Torn Open.
The postoffice boxes had been emptied and each letter torn in a thorough search for plunder.

The window through which the entrance was gained, opens into the rear room. The midnight visitor had entered the postoffice proper in the front room, by crawling through the money order window, which is never locked.

Once within the sacred precincts of Uncle Sam's private sanctuary the bold disciple of Jesse James made himself at home most emphatically. He went through the money drawer and found fifty dollars in silver. Then he gathered up five or six dollars worth of postage stamps, probably just for the sake of letting mother know he was well each day.

Overlooked a Chance.

He neglected to look in a table drawer, however, where the bulk of the stamps are kept and missed a neat haul thereby.

Not satisfied with what Uncle Sam could furnish him, after hastily looking over Roscoe's Saturday mail in hopes that a stray ten dollar bill might float out, he looked over Mr. Jacobs' tonsorial department and selected six likely looking razors and tucked them into his pocket. Out of the generosity of his heart he left the shaving mugs and soap and a few dirty towels, probably deeming it advisable to leave a nest egg for some future haul.

Nothing but the tracks of buggy wheels in front of the building this morning gave any evidence of how the thief came and went and even these are not conclusive. Mr. Jacobs, however, believes he has another clue, which lead to the capture of the postoffice robber.

Stranger Appeared.

a two dollar bill. Mr. Jacobs handed him two silver dollars and the stranger walked out. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs were both in the office at the time and Mrs. Jacobs remarked that the stranger did not possess the most genial nature imaginable.

"He don't even thank a person"

Mr. Jacobs remarked. Then he followed the stranger to the door and watched him go up the street and enter LeRettley's store. He left there and wandered to Randles' restaurant but came back to LeRettley's a short time afterwards and purchased some bananas.

A number of people noticed him and he seems to have been a stranger to all of them. Nothing more has been seen of him and the finger of suspicion points at him. He is described by Mr. Jacobs as being perhaps five and a half feet tall, of heavy build, dark complexion and wearing a dark moustache. His clothes were dark and he wore a soft hat.

The Coshocton police were notified and descriptions have been sent to neighboring towns. The offense is a grave one in the eye of the law.

SHAKING UP BONES

Fraud and Conspiracy Charged, and Six Indictments Returned Against Municipal Officers By Detroit Grand Jury--Payrolls Said To Have Been Stuffed.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 26.—Municipal affairs, the department of public works particularly, has been the subject of investigation by a grand jury which has resulted in the return of six indictments.

Five of indictments returned were made public in court and they name the following persons: D. W. H. Moreland, formerly commissioner of public works, recently removed from office by the council; Herman Wartell and T. J. White, formerly employees of the public works department under Moreland; John Hock, a former department of works employe and contractor, and Henry Merdian, a contractor, and his associate, Robert Conway. Moreland is named in each of the five indictments read in court. Two of the indictments charge him with conspiracy to defraud and the other three with misappropriation and converting property of the city to the use of others.

In the first of the indictments alleging conspiracy it is charged that Moreland, Merdian, Conday, Wartell and White conspired in March, 1902, to defraud the city of $1,000 through the payrolls of the department of public works for street sweeping and teaming, and in the second that Moreland, with Wartell, White and Hock, conspired in the same month to defraud the city out of $1,000 through street sweeping and teaming bills. The other three indictments charge Moreland, under a special statute, with converting 1,735 feet of Medina curbstones, valued at $800, to Thomas J. Kennedy; with converting 1,052 cubic yards of sand worth $500 to Henry Merdian & Co., and with converting 400 yards of crushed stone worth $409 to John Archer and John Hock.

Mr. Moreland came into court, and when asked to plead stood mute on the advice of his attorney. The judge accordingly entered a plea of not guilty and fixed Mr. Moreland's bail on all five indictments at $6,000. It was given. John Hock was also in court and gave bail in the sum of $1,800. Warrants for the arrest of the other indicted men were issued and placed in the hands of the sheriff. None of them has been arrested.

Mayor Many Times Indicted.
Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 26.—Mayor Francis M. Menke of Mattoon was indicted by a grand jury on 29 counts charging him with malfeasance and misfeasance in office. He was arrested and bond was fixed at $2,500. Menke secured bondsmen and his trial was set for next week. One of the charges against Menke is that he entered into a conspiracy with Dr. Pinkstaff to secure money from the demerits of Mattoon. It is said that the physician divided fees for weekly physical examination certificates with the mayor. Mayor Menke is accused of entering into contracts with gaming houses, immoral places and Sunday saloons. Two Mattoon newspapers have been urging that action be taken against Menke. He visited both offices and threatened bodily injury to the editors, but elicited additional denunciatory editorials.

Lost Valuable Horse.
John Stuckum, the well known farmer residing near the county infirmary lost a valuable driving horse this week. The animal was frisky when a lad went to the pasture to get her, and in some manner fell and broke her leg. Mr. Stuckum had the faithful creature shot, to end her misery. He valued the animal at $200.

Is An Alternate.
J. F. Meek of this city has been selected as one of the two alternates lay delegates to the general M. E. conference at Los Angeles, Cal., next year, by the East Ohio Conference now in session at Akron.

DUSKY DAME SAYS HE'S HERS

United States Army Officer Claimed as Husband by Frisky Filipino Widow.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 26.—With a Filipino woman claiming that he is a husband and a father, First Lieutenant Sidney R. Burbank, Sixth infantry, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, betrothed to a society girl of this city, filed suit to annul a pretended marriage with Mrs. Concepcion Vazquez.

The beginning of this suit is the outcome of a charge made by Mrs. Vazquez to the war department last spring that Lieutenant Burbank was married to her while in the Philippine Islands and that she was his lawful wife and wanted him to support her. The first notice of this alleged marriage was made public after the announcement of the betrothal of Lieutenant Burbank to a society girl of Leavenworth. The story of the Filipino marriage of Lieutenant Burbank, which he says is a fraud, comes from Valladolid province, where Lieutenant Burbank was in command of a garrison of United States troops in 1901. Mrs. Vazquez, who was a widow with three small children, lived in the village where the garrison was situated.

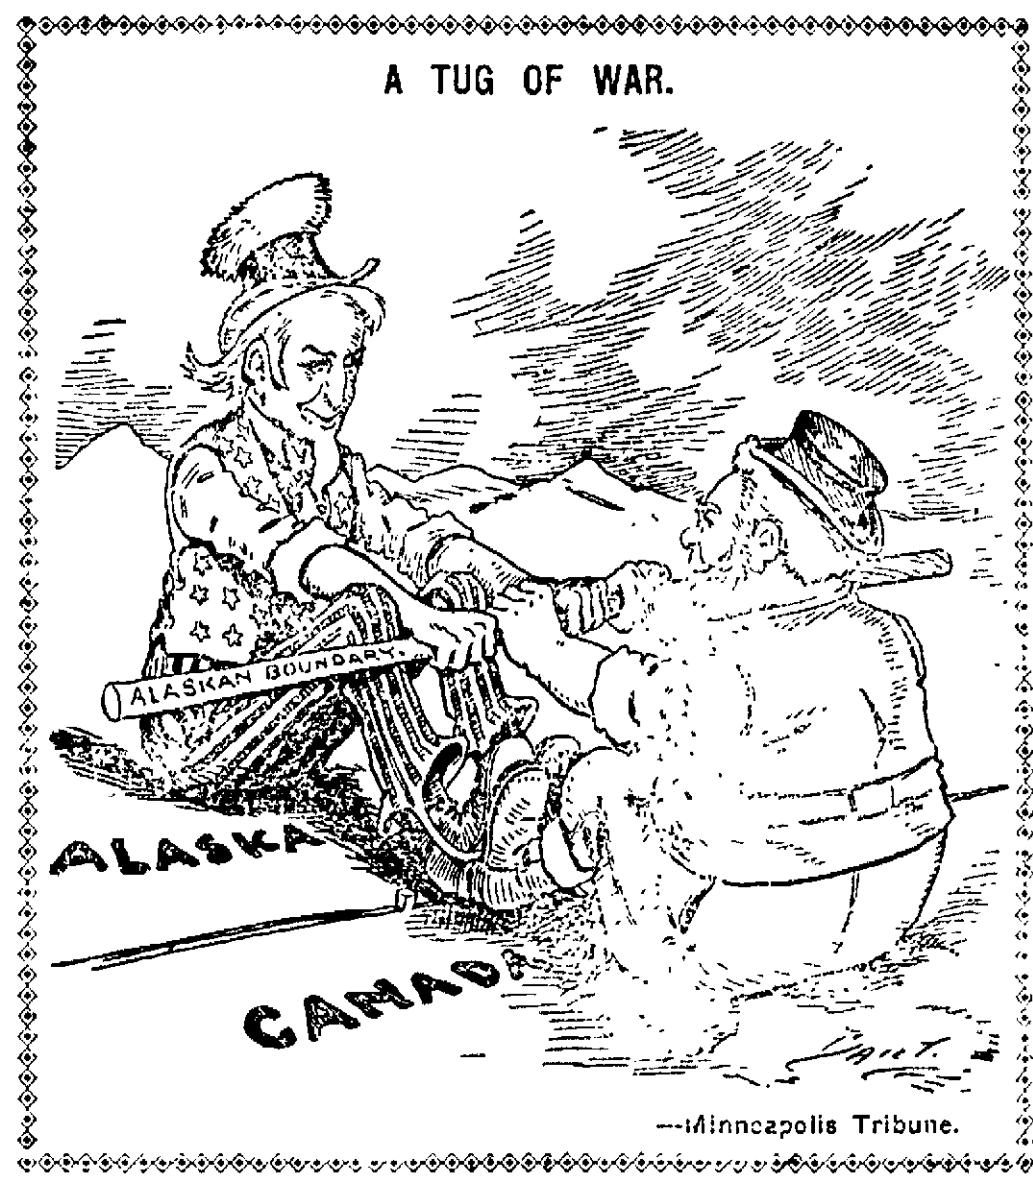

Lieutenant Burbank came to Fort Leavenworth a year ago and a report followed him that he was married to a Filipino woman and was the father of a new-born baby. The Filipino widow followed this by filing copies of documents pretending to be a marriage contract with Lieutenant Burbank. To offset this Lieutenant Burbank and Corporal Burns sent affidavits to the war department stating that Lieutenant Burbank was not in the village, but on a campaign, at the date of the pretended marriage. Also that the pretended marriage was a fraud and any documents to back it were forgeries.

It is said that Lieutenant Burbank's solution of the affair is that a justice of the peace where Burbank commanded troops was imprisoned for insubordination; that the justice had charge of the records and that in his eagerness to get even with Lieutenant Burbank he permitted the woman to apply and to make out a marriage certificate. His object in filing the suit here is to clear his record.

Under the Kansas divorce laws the woman has 40 days in which to answer. She will not have time to answer, as it would require at least three months to prepare any defense and file it by a person now in the Philippines.

Small Fire At Steel Works.
A small fire which might have proved far more serious was discovered by Officer Fretueg at the Houston Hay Axle works about two o'clock. This morning and extinguished without any alarm being sounded.

Straw Crop Burned.
James Rodgers, who dwells near West Lafayette, lost twenty tons of new straw Friday on his farm near Morgan Run. The straw is said to have caught fire from the spark of a passing locomotive, and went up in smoke.

POSTAL DEPARTMENT FRAUDS REACH CLEAR ACROSS THE CONTINENT

San Francisco Inspector Denies Connection With Crooked Work.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
San Francisco, Sept. 26.—James R. Erwin, indicted postal inspector, pleaded innocence before United States Commissioner Hancock. He desired to show why he should not be held for trial in Washington and made a complete statement of his connection with the alleged postoffice frauds. He denied the charges specifically and then told of his knowledge of and connection with the affair. Erwin had notebooks and memoranda to verify what he said. He did not deny a knowledge of the sale of the patented letter box attachments and a compliance with the schemes of the local office whereby they developed the service and sold them to the government. Erwin said that he never had any thing officially to do with the acceptance and installment of the devices. The attachments are now in use in several cities. Erwin said that as assistant general superintendent of free delivery he induced the use of the devices. The number in use under his direction, he said, was 1,000 or 1,100. He asserted positively, however, that he never knowingly defrauded the government and that the sum total of his earnings from the Postal Device and Improvement company was $96.

Talking It Over.
The Democratic county central committee held a meeting at the Democrat and Standard office, this afternoon, at one o'clock.

Ball Game Today.

HIS NERVE SAVED TRAIN

Engineer Dashed by Clumsy Danger Signal of Robbers.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Woonsocket, R. I., Sept. 26.—Because the trained eye of Engineer George W. Boss recognized in the awkward swing of a lantern the work of a novice, he pulled the throttle wide open and drove his train swiftly by a danger signal set dead against him and frustrated what is believed to have been an attempt to hold up the boat train at Plummers Lodge, a lonely spot a mile north of Whitins Station, on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Four cars full of passengers unconscious of probable peril were landed safely in Providence, and the engineer, who had assumed an awful responsibility, went to the office of Superintendent A. R. Whaley to report that he had matched his judgment against the ironclad orders of the road and won. That there was a deliberate attempt by 10 men to hold up the train there is little doubt.

Took Second Money.
John M. Adams' stallion, Clayona Chief, took second money in the 2:35 trot at the Marion County fair, Friday.

Directory Now Ready.
Messrs. Randles and Cottom have completed the publication of the new Coshocton county directory and it is now ready for delivery.

Stockholder Enters Suit and Says Assets are 70 Million Less Than Capital.

[By Telegraph to The Age.]
Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—F. Schoenfeld, a stockholder of the American Can company, (the so-called tin can trust, has by his counsel filed a bill before Vice Chancellor Grey of Camden which makes sensational disclosures.

An injunction is asked to restrain the payment of the 2 1/2 per cent dividend by the board of directors on the company's preferred stock. The matter will come before the vice chancellor on Monday, Sept. 28. The bill among other things charges fraud in the organization of the company and overcapitalization, that the tangible assets are not worth more than $10,000,000, whereas the company is capitalized at $82,500,000; that while the company acquired 123 plants, it has been operating only 30, and according to its last showing only earned 4 per cent on the total amount of its value of $22,000,000.

It is alleged that the payment of the dividend would be an impairment of its capital. The bill also plays that the stock which is alleged to have been fraudulently issued and which, it is said, went as bonus, profit or awarded to the promoters, be annulled if still in their hands, otherwise that they be required to account for the money. The president of the company is F. A. Asmann of New York.

TRINWAY GRAVEL FOR THE WABASH

William Timmons, of the firm of McKinney & Timmons, of Zanesville, was in Trinway Thursday to engage men to load gravel on the cars from their pits at Trinway says the Dresden Transcript. This firm have sold to McArthur Bros. railroad construction contractors, 440 tons, or about 150 cars of Trinway gravel to be used in concrete work on the new Wabash lines. The gravel is to be delivered between Roseville and Sayre, and will be used in the concrete work of culverts, bridges, etc.

COPPERHEAD SNAKE KILLED IN CITY.
A large copper head snake was killed late Friday afternoon by Mrs. Ed. Carroll at her home on Orange street near the Coshocton Lumber company. Mrs. Carroll had just stepped from her back door into the yard when she espied the snake. With rare presence of mind she hastily secured something with which to kill it. It measured 29 inches in length. This is the second snake Mrs. Carroll has dispatched in her yard this summer.

JOHNSON AS RINGMASTER OF THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH

George Marvin Tells How The Hippodrome Is Being Received Over The State--Poor Lentz.

GEORGE U. MARVIN.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26--(Special.) If there was nothing else by which to judge of the outlook and the prospects for Republican victory in the coming election except the opening meeting at Chillicothe on Saturday last, proof would not be lacking to indicate a majority for the state officers and in the legislature fully up to the predictions of the most enthusiastic partisan. It is of course somewhat early to attempt accurate calculation and figures made now may be badly upset by future developments, but the trend of events has all been in favor of the Republicans. Mayor Johnson, who started off badly, has been at least consistent in one thing. He has been steadily decreasing the Democratic vote wherever he went, leaving behind him a trail of unfortunate mistakes and political blunders.

It was a somewhat difficult matter he undertook at the state convention when Mr. Clark, a corporation attorney and a pronounced advocate of sound money, was made a candidate upon a platform dictated by Mr. Bryan and overloaded with endorsements in favor of his political theories. But Johnson forced it through, and it seemed to give him courage. Within a day or two he bolted the action of his own convention by declaring in a farmers' picnic, held at Silver Lake, Summit county, that he would not abide by the attitude of the Democratic delegates in reference to the governor's veto, but he would vote with the Republicans to that extent. From that time on wherever he has gone in his red automobile and the shadow of his tent he has mingled rebuke to the Democrats as freely as he has denounced the Republicans. This may seem good to him and perhaps, according to his ethics, shrewd politics. Moreover, what he says about the Democrats may all be true. Being a Democrat himself, he ought to know.

But over in Richland county there are those of his faith who differ. Listen to the remarks of a Democrat from Mansfield who was at Chillicothe, a Democrat of the old before-the-war type to whom Andrew Jackson is the embodiment of all political virtue. The question "What effect has the action of Johnson had in your county? How do the friends of Earnhart like it?" was put direct. To repeat him literally would perhaps be more effective but hardly allowable. Stripped of adjectives and expletives, his reply in substance was as follows: It has all the earmarks of a genuine Democratic statement.

"I believe that the Republicans will carry Richland county this fall and if they do, Johnson will be to blame. Why, does he think he can come over there and dictate our policy? What business was it of his whom we nominated for the legislature? We knew before he was born, and if we wished, we could turn him back, it was none of his business. Perhaps we wouldn't, but it was no affair of his. There is one thing sure—the man he has nominated won't come to Chillicothe. That's as certain as taxes. What Earnhart does to him will be a plenty. Why, has he brought his hand down on his knee? I have voted the Democratic ticket for a good many years, but I won't vote for him or his crowd this fall. Now, just look at it. There has been jabbering with Bryan and talking about free silver and single tax and denouncing corporations. Then what does he do but put up a man for the senate who is one of the great corporation lawyers of the state and builds in gold. He even bolted the ticket in 1896 and boasted about it. Bryan comes along and swallows him, and the rest of us are expected to do so. None of it for me, and there are many more feeling just the same way in my county. Keep your eye on Richland and see what it does."

Johnson is a bold man. He plays politics as a gambler plays his game and stakes all on the throw of a single card. But this year he has overshot the mark in the language of the little boy, "What happens to him will be a plenty." There was no expectation that the McLean people would receive Mr. Johnson and the action of his convention with any great demonstration of joy except as they knew it spelled defeat in advance. But that they would seek the grindstone and begin the work of sharpening knives with such feverish haste was hardly to be looked for. From the time, however, that Johnson began his spectacular tour of the state until the present, the old McLean guard has been camping on his trail. Every one of his old leaders, and good fighters they are, is open in his opposition. There is no hiding under a cloak and no attempt to conceal.

The McLean people are against Johnson and his crew from captain down to deck hand, and will cheerfully assist in making him only a memory in the political history of the state. When the convention met McLean himself was basking in the sun of foreign lands. He let Johnson go without hindrance, knowing he would work his own damnation. For fear, however, that this may not come sufficiently soon, he and his friends propose now to help the culmination along. In every nook and corner of the state where followers of McLean can be found, there also can be found a denouncer of Johnson and his platform.

John J. Lentz, of Columbus, that faithful follower of Bryan, that earnest disciple of free silver, he of the sudden conversion, is wondering, with good cause, as to exactly where he is at. Mr. Lentz was really the subject of a most unkind and heartless act. After clinging to the skirts of his chieftain with splendid zeal, and after permitting himself to be made the mark for attack from every quarter, he was turned down and thrown out at the first opportunity presented for reward. Lentz desired to be endorsed for senator. It was the burning ambition of a patriotic heart; the one goal toward which his eyes looked. Yet when the time came he was pushed aside and another given the prize. To add to his humiliation, the one selected was of the other faction of the party—an advocate and a follower of sound money. Could anything have been more unkind? It was the superlative degree of political ingratitude. Anyone who is now suffering from chills can find immediate relief and permanent cure by calving upon the Columbus statesman and making mention of Mr. Johnson and the state convention. There was not the shadow of excuse presented for his overthrow. His own county delegates, many of whom had been his political opponents, endorsed him to a man. He therefore went into the convention with a solid delegation back of his candidacy. No explanation of it was offered. The knockout blow was simply delivered, and ten counted while Clarke was pronounced the victor.

In like manner, though in a somewhat lesser degree, Hon. Harvey Garber has been the victim of the political siletto. Garber last year was the chairman of the state executive committee, the manager of Johnson's campaign. This year he has been relegated to the rear, though not entirely ignored. To place him behind and create a loss in some connection among his friends, it is supposed that he will have charge of the legislative body. What a hollow honor! With all these things hanging in the full light of publicity, where a private citizen may wonder there is no one who rises up and cries out to the Cleveland mayor and his crew?

A SUMMER TRIP UNSURPASSED ON THE CONTINENT.

The trip to Salt Lake City or to the Pacific coast via that point over the Denver, Rio Grande System, "The Scenic Relief of the World," is the most beautiful in America. No European trip of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightful temperature, sunny climate and its Great Salt Lake—deader and denser than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canons and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water, a mile above the sea level and in water in which the human body cannot sink. NOT FOR FARMERS.

Socialism and Single Tax the Democratic Issues.

Accumulating Proofs That Tom Johnson Is Using the Ohio Democracy to Boost His Own Pet Fads Against Its Principles.

The announcement that the Democratic state committee will endeavor to induce the Ohio Socialists to withdraw their ticket from the field in the interest of Tom L. Johnson should occasion not the slightest surprise in any quarter. In this campaign the two parties—the Democrats and the Socialists—stand for substantially the same things. The only important difference is that the Johnsonized Democracy, while it lays stress upon the doctrine of Socialism, pushes the single tax issue to the fore.

The platform which Tom L. Johnson forced upon the recent Democratic state convention was framed by Louis F. Post, the well-known Socialist of Chicago. Post is also the author of a circular, 5,000,000 copies of which will be distributed throughout the state by the Democratic executive committee. Johnson's speeches teem with Socialism. He and his prototype, Colonel Bryan, have led the party which was founded and which grew to greatness upon the principle of individualism to a point where today it stands for collectivism. The free silver craze which swept over the party seven years ago is a mere incident to this fundamental change.

The Ohio Democracy, under the leadership of Johnson, stands today for another false doctrine as foreign as Socialism to its first principles. Its foremost issue is the single tax, which, briefly stated, would lay the whole burden of taxation upon the holders of land. Under such a system, the millionaire owner of stocks and bonds, of towering office buildings, of any sort and any amount of personal property, would pay no taxes, while the farmer, or the small householder would support the national, state and municipal government.

Johnson himself is one of the most prominent single taxers in the United States. When the late Henry George was making his canvass for the New York mayoralty on a single tax platform, Johnson went through the campaign with him, making many speeches in advocacy of the theory. Henry George died suddenly a day or two before the election. His place on the ticket was taken by his son, who bears his father's name. Today Henry George, Jr., single taxer, is touring Ohio with Johnson, urging his theories upon his audience and advocating Johnson's election to the governorship. George opened the Democratic campaign with Johnson and he expects to remain in Ohio until election day, working for the success of his fellow single taxer, Tom L. Johnson.

The candidacy of Johnson and the appearance of George in Ohio are not the only evidences of the effort to make the single tax share with Socialism the first place among the Democratic issues in this state campaign. J. B. Vining, secretary and treasurer of the Ohio Single Tax league, who has been rewarded for his allegiance to the theory by a salaried position in the Johnson city government in Cleveland, has prepared a quantity of single tax literature for general circulation as campaign documents. Here in Franklin county Johnson asks the voters to support for the legislature Frank H. Howe, one of the most radical single tax advocates in Ohio.

The sneaking efforts of the Democratic stump speakers to make it appear that they are warning their fight chiefly on state issues should blind no intelligent man to the fact. Johnson is the Ohio Democracy this year. And Johnson is a Socialist and a Single Taxer. We leave it to the intelligence of the voters of Ohio whether they are willing to turn the state government over to an advocate of these theories.

Recently Illustrated Right in Johnsonstown.

Had There Been No Higher Authority to Protect Them, One-Fifth of Her People Would Have Ruled the Rest Without Remedy.

"We favor absolute home rule, for counties, cities and villages, with reference to their local affairs." Such is the emphatic and distinct declaration of the Johnson state platform, masquerading as a Democratic document. Since the entire Johnson campaign is simply a scheme to spread Cleveland's purely "local affairs" over the entire state to the exclusion of every other interest, and even to capture offices of national importance by ignoring national questions, it is hardly seen that his declaration refers first of all to Cleveland matters. In proof, it is just as well for the state to study the Cleveland situation. The so-called federal plan had a long trial in Cleveland, and the results carefully considered are distinctly against it. Johnson today, as mayor under the new municipal code, is exercising more autocratic authority than any Ohio city outside of Cleveland ever saw. Whatever is done in Cleveland is Johnsonism pure and simple, and completely illustrates the dose that Johnson desires to give in "absolute home rule" for counties, cities and villages."

The most recent and conspicuous illustration has been the special bond election, about which Johnson has been blubbering with crocodile tears. His grief may be pretty sincere after all, however, for one of his pet games has been blocked. His heart is set on experimenting with an electric lighting plant at the city's expense. To get it started, he wants the city to borrow $400,000. Those who have studied the subject as they would any business problem, to learn its actual merits, declare that ten times this sum, or $1,000,000, will be needed to complete the plant and set it in full operation for every part of the city. All that Johnson asks this time, however, is $400,000 in bonds. This was first with him of the six items involved in the voting by the people of Cleveland upon issuing bonds to the amount of $1,900,000. The aggregate ultimate expense of all these improvements will be $15,000,000. Johnson wanted the vote taken at a special election. Having a majority in the city council, he had it so ordered. Under the "absolute home rule," the Johnson platform demands there would have been no remedy for this wrong.

However, this is still the state of Ohio, and the city of Cleveland is only a fraction and not the whole thing, as yet. There is still a tribunal here with power and purpose to deal justly and to protect the people against their rulers when the latter do wrong as Johnson was doing in this matter. Citizens and taxpayers of Cleveland, finding that they would be disfranchised by the Johnson plan, and that the Johnson special election would shut out more than 60,000 citizens of Cleveland from any opportunity even to vote upon these issues, involving the future of the state, and the future of the city of Cleveland, they requested that a bond to remain in Cleveland city authorities from the great wrong that the latter were about to inflict upon four-fifths of the voters of Cleveland. Their case was so clear that the court promptly granted the relief requested. Had there been "absolute home rule," nothing whatever could have been done. No remedy would have existed.

As it is, the people will now have their election in such a way that all of them will have a chance to vote. By Johnson's special election plan the law allowed only one voting booth to each ward. Johnson knew this and took advantage of it. He could easily have had the vote appointed for the regular election, but he did not want it that way. With all the people voting as would then be the case, he might lose at the polls. "Absolute home rule" would have made him absolute dictator. The election will now be held, however, the Republicans and anti-Johnson Democrats in council having voted properly to appoint it in connection with the regular November election. Then every precinct will have its own voting place, every man will have his chance to put in his ballot, and Johnson's scheme to disfranchise four-fifths of them will be foiled.

HIS OWN WORDS.

Johnson Against All Private Land Ownership.

"We Single-Taxers Would Put All Taxes on the Value of Lands, and Would Ask No Exemption For Small Holders."

Tom Johnson is an ardent student, an enthusiastic worshiper and a faithful follower of Henry George, whose doctrines he has eagerly imbibed and no less loudly proclaimed as a part of his own political creed.

In a speech which he delivered at Wooster, O., Monday night, Oct. 5, 1902, Johnson said: "The philosophy of Henry George is the sovereign remedy for existing evils in both state and national affairs."

His consistency is shown in that he industriously practices what he preaches. When a member of the Fifty-third congress, he used his franking privilege as a member of the house to send Henry George's book, "Progress and Poverty," through the mails free of postage.

In that congress Johnson spoke and voted with five other members in favor of a single-tax measure and lay voted against it. That measure provided "that a direct tax of $31,311,125 be and is hereby annually laid upon land values in the United States, and apportioned to states, territories and the District of Columbia according to population by the census of 1890; that the said direct tax shall be assessed and laid on the value of all land, exclusive and irrespective of the improvements thereon;" and "that all land subject to taxation under this act shall be assessed and valued for the purpose of taxation at its full market value."

Upon this measure Tom Johnson spoke as follows: "Mr. Chairman, I desire to put on record the names of the gentlemen who have had the foresight and patriotism to vote for this single-tax amendment." Having named the five gentlemen who voted with him he further declared, according to the Congressional Record, that "we take for use of the people what the people themselves have created. As a matter of equal right we ought to take it all." "We should take what the growth of community creates, and that is the proper and sufficient subject of all taxation. That is what we mean by the single tax. It may be manifold in the uses made of it, but it comes from a single source—the growth and improvement of the community. By the single tax we mean not that there is to be one single purpose for which revenue is to be raised, but one single source from which it is to be obtained."

"We single taxers, who would put all taxes, national, state, county and municipal on the value of land, irrespective of improvements, ask no exemptions for small holders."

This is the Henry George doctrine straight from the shoulder and with a vengeance. There shall be "no exemptions of small holders." As the majority holders in this country are "small holders," Tom Johnson, according to his own statement and vote, proposes to saddle upon them the next sary tax to support the "national, state, county and municipal" governments. The purpose of this legislation, as admitted by Johnson and his conditions, is to take the whole burden of taxation for national, state, county and municipal purposes off of industry, commerce and agriculture and lay it upon the backs of the small holders. It is shown by the record that the single tax advocate declared that this is only the beginning of raising all the government revenue of every description by the direct land tax, on the "full market value," and that the "without exemptions for small holders."

Today Tom Johnson is the political boss and a leading candidate of what he styles the Democracy of Ohio, and he proposes to use that party, as far as possible, in advancing this pernicious doctrine. Are the Democratic farmers of Ohio ready to submit to the confiscation of the land that they have purchased by the sweat of honest toil, to the necessities of the worst political despot and demagogue of the twentieth century? This is not at all likely, if they study the features of this diabolical heresy.—Dayton Press.

VAIN BLUBBERS.

Johnson's Woe Because All Clevelanders Will Vote.

He Schemed to Keep Four-Fifths of Them From Voting on Issues Involving $15,000,000, But the People Protected Themselves in Spite of Him.

In spite of the Tom Johnson attempt to prevent 60,000 or more of the citizens of Cleveland from voting upon the six propositions to add $1,900,000 to the bonded debt of that city, simply to begin certain improvements, which their best business men tell them will cost fully $15,000,000 to finish, the people of Cleveland are going to have a chance for all of them at the polls, to take action upon these most important questions. By the unanimous vote of the Cleveland council, every Republican and every anti-Johnson Democrat voting for the election, it will be held at the time of the November election, when every citizen will be sure of his opportunity to express his opinion by his ballot without delay or hindrance.

This could never have been done at the special election which Johnson wanted and ordered the council to appoint for a date in September, knowing full well that it would be absolutely impossible for four men out of five to get any chance at all to put in their vote on the questions involved. He knew that the law provided for only one election precinct in each ward in the case of a vote on a bond issue at a special election. He knew that this very fact would disfranchise more than 60,000 of Cleveland's 75,000 voters. He finds fault with the statute, but there was no law compelling him to hold this election on some special date. He was perfectly free all the time to have the vote taken when all of Cleveland's citizens could vote. Certainly the November election this year will be exciting and closely contested in Cleveland, with about all the candidates from that city, and an immense poll may be expected.

Since Johnson fought so strenuously to the very last against having the election for $1,900,000 worth of bonds held at the November election, did he presume that the excitement would bring out too big a vote that day? At the general election the voting would be done in the precincts, and every ballot can be cast. Every citizen, and particularly every taxpayer, will have a fair chance to express his opinion, and that is just what Johnson does not want. He poses as the people's friend, and if he had been a true friend of the people, he never would have been a party to this scheme to disfranchise them. But he had one or two pet plans for spending public money, and he did not dare to trust these to a vote by all the people of Cleveland. With only a fifth of the voters at the polls, he might be able to carry the day, and so he insisted upon a special election for that fifth only.

Johnson might fool some of the people of Cleveland part of the time, but he could not fool all of them all of the time. Enough of them, both Democrats and Republicans, saw the shrewdness of his scheme and took steps to block his game. It was this appeal from the people, from the men who will have to pay the bills for Johnson's experiments, which prevailed against him. Powerless to protect themselves from his tyranny locally, they invoked the aid of the supreme court of Ohio. Home rule of the extreme kind demanded by the Johnson platform would have put them absolutely remedy. The supreme court, however, saw the justice of their case, and freed Mr. Johnson's hands with the injunction that he has been blubbering about. He extends that it prevents him from having a vote on the improvements. Nothing of the sort has been done. He tried to rob 60,000 Clevelanders of any chance to vote. The supreme court having ordered the way, the Republicans and anti-Johnson Democrats in the Cleveland council at once provided for an election with a full ballot of all of Cleveland's 75,000 voters.

$10,000 GIVEN BY MODEST PERSON

Conference at Akron Receives Large Gift From An Unknown.

A dispatch from Akron in the Cleveland Leader says:

The principle business of the third day's session of the East Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was the presentation of reports by the presiding elders of the different subdistricts. From all of them came the same assurances of prosperous years and bright prospects.

An unknown donor has presented the conference with $10,000 to be used in the support of orphans of superannuated ministers of the conference. A committee will be named which will devise means for the disposition of the money.

Salem Kile, of this city, will probably be the Akron delegate to the General Conference of the church in Los Angeles, Cal., next year. He has no opposition, but the fight for the rest of the places on the delegation will probably be a spirited one. Six laymen and six ministers from this conference will be selected as delegates.

Rev. T. C. Hilt addressed the conference, and tonight the annual celebration of the Freeman's Aid and Southern Educational Society was celebrated. Dr. Davidson addressed this meeting, the regularly assigned speaker, Rev. C. B. Mason, D. D., the noted colored divine, not being able to be present.

LOW FARES TO NEWARK. Excursion tickets to Newark, account fair, will be sold September 29th to October 2nd, inclusive, from Coshocton, Columbus and intermediate ticket stations on the Pennsylvania lines.

Work on the Canadian buildings at the world's fair was begun last week. The structure is to be 100 feet square, two stories high and surrounded by a portico. It will be finished by Dec. 1. Its cost is $25,000.

Illinois is making a good start on her state building on the hill south of the Palace of Machinery at the world's fair.

Among the interesting things from Rhode Island at the world's fair will be a solid silver writing table and chair on which two years' solid labor has already been expended in engraving and chasing.

Porto Rico will show visitors to the world's fair at St. Louis the excellence of the coffee grown on their island by distributing free 50,000 packages of roasted and ground coffee.

YOU WANT IT

You feel all knocked out. No appetite, weak, can't get down to work or business. Your stomach out of order and does not digest your food, caused by catarrhal condition there. The inner lining is inflamed and coated with a thick, sticky mucus. The food on entering it also becomes covered with this mucus. Gastric juices cannot then act upon it. It lies there, decomposes, generates gas and you have horrid breath, bloating, dizziness, heart palpitation and many other distressing symptoms. Unless you dissolve this mucus and treat stomach you cannot hope to be better.

Ho-sen-do Stomach Tablets is the only medicine known that will dissolve this mucus and not injure the stomach. They also act as a curative, increase appetite, stimulate gastric action and remove all catarrhal conditions.

Our treatment is the only common sense one for the cure of stomach troubles offered. We make a dissolution of the tablet in hot water and by flushing out the stomach with this before eating dissolve the mucus and effect a cure. Truly the greatest stomach remedy of the age. For sale by all druggists.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight. Sunday fair and cooler.

A STITCH IN TIME.

Excuse has been made that the difficulty in repairing a sheet asphalt pavement, is that most towns are remote from the asphalt plants. Coshocton is lucky. Chestnut street's pavement is in a terrible condition, and the cement patches that have been put on won't last until the first of November. But the Barber Asphalt Paving company of Cleveland has a force of men at work on Fourth street preparing it for a sheet asphalt pavement. It is the opportunity for the local authorities to have Chestnut street repaired at little extra expense, and have it done right and permanently.

ANOTHER FEATHER.

Today the Age presents on page 2 a letter from the versatile pen of George U. Marvin, one of the best known newspaper men in the business. Mr. Marvin is the regular Washington representative of the Toledo Blade, but during the present campaign is touring Ohio and keeping his finger on the political pulse. No man in the state is in better touch with affairs as they really are, and Mr. Marvin tells things just as he finds them. He is himself a shrewd political writer, and his letters will appear regularly in The Age throughout this, the most spectacular campaign the staid old Buckeye state ever witnessed.

The finding of a treasure ship off the coast of Florida, laden with silver bullion, must be bitter to Mr. Bryan. It is so significant of the manner in which the late lamented majority met his death, too.

Clothes With Merit

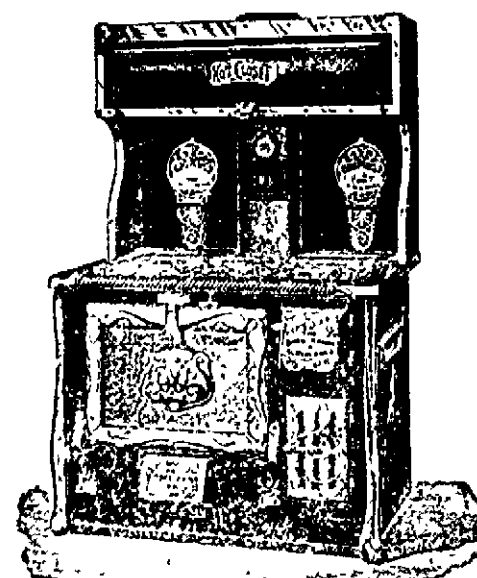

When you see an unusually well dressed man on the street the chances are, nine out of ten, that he is wearing a Harris made suit. Our suits do not look like the ordinary tailor-made suits with no snap or style, and which fit like a carpet rag thrown over a hitching post. The only serious rival we have is the highest priced city tailors, and that means double our price. When you want a garment that fits well, with snap and style, come here.

Our new three button, double-breasted sack is taking well with good dressers.

FAMILY STRANGELY PURSUED BY DEATH

William Zetty, who has been suffering with consumption for the past year, passed away at his home on Vine street, Saturday morning at one o'clock. His age was twenty-six years and ten months. The visitations of death to the Zetty family have been strangely frequent in the past year. Within a period of less than seven months, three have died. A son, Melvin Zetty, died March 13. The father, Noah Zetty, was summoned next, on the eighth of June and now another of the boys has been called home. The mother and three sons are still living. One son, Samuel L. Zetty resides in Cleveland. The other two, Maro and John, live at home.

William Zetty was a structural bridge worker and was a member of the Structural Bridge Workers' union at Pittsburgh. He was well known in Coshocton, especially among the young men. He gained considerable renown here as an amateur baseball pitcher. He was born near Keene and lived at Canal Lewisville most of his life. He came to Coshocton last April and was taken bedfast in June. He was a companionable, free hearted boy and was well liked by all who knew him. Funeral services will be conducted at the Canal Lewisville Baptist church, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and interment made at the Lewisville cemetery.

Cure Catarrh by Nature's Own Method--
Every Breath of Hyomei Brings Relief.

Nearly every one who has catarrh knows how foolish it is to try and cure it by drugging the stomach. Temporary relief may be given, but a cure seldom comes.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate; but now with Hyomei you can carry a health giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day soon cure yourself.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows nature in her method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

C. E. Anderson sold a great many Hyomei outfits and the more he sells the more convinced he is that he can perfectly safe in guaranteeing to refund the money if Hyomei does not cure.

STRONGEST EVIDENCE OF FAITH
C. E. Anderson Guarantees That Hyomei Will Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh in Coshocton, Ohio.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Coshocton guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or he will refund the money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that C. E. Anderson is selling Hyomei, the treatment that has made so many remarkable cures of both acute and chronic catarrh in Coshocton and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it by the aid of an inhaler that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone. It cures catarrh of the head and throat, or of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Wherever mucous membrane contains catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not cure you, C. E. Anderson will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.

CURES CATARRH

"Hyomei the Most Wonderful Cure for Catarrh Ever Discovered"

Says C. E. Anderson.

Do not try to cure catarrh by taking drugs into the stomach; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be cured is through a direct application that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Hyomei is the only known method of treatment that accomplishes this. It is the simplest, most pleasant, and the only absolute cure for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials have been received from the most prominent men and women in the country who have been cured by this remarkable remedy. Ministers, bankers, lawyers, even eminent physicians have given strong testimonials as to the remarkable powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of curing catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

C. E. Anderson, of Coshocton, has so much confidence in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh, that he will for a limited time, sell this medicine under his personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchasers can say that it did not help them.

SOCIETY.

Wedded At Tiffin.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season took place at Tiffin, O., last Wednesday morning when one of Coshocton's prominent young men, Thomas G. McDermott was united in marriage to Miss Rosa Hosfeld, a charming young lady of that city. Promptly at seven a. m. the bridal party entered St. Joseph's Catholic church. Miss Clara Hosfeld, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Leidy was groomsmen. The bride wore a gown of old rose colored silk and carried a bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in gray nun's veiling. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Haufner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. A sumptuous wedding feast was served to about thirty relatives and friends. The bride and groom left on Wednesday for a few days in Toledo and Detroit and on their return Saturday they will go to Mansfield where a cozily furnished home awaits them.

Mr. and Mrs. McDermott have the best wishes of a host of friends in this city.

Misses Rose and Annie McDermott of this city, sisters of the groom attended the wedding.

The Oyster Supper.

The oyster supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the lecture room was a success in something decidedly new and was a very way. The "trade-lust" table was most entertaining piece. The trades were very clever and original and some very happy hits were made as they were tactfully bestowed by the young ladies in charge. A few of them read as follows:

She cast her eyes upon him
And he looked so good and true,
That she thought "I could be happy,
With a gentleman like you."
What a peace comes o'er our soul,
As you play:
How our week day troubles roll—
Quite away!

We forget that we were late,
That our hats are out of date,
That we've nothing when the plate
Comes this way.

The room was artistically decorated with a bounteous supply of flowers and ferns. At noon today the ladies served a lunch which was much appreciated by the hurried business men. The receipts from both supper and luncheon were one hundred dollars.

Rebekahs Celebrate.

A gala event for the order of the Daughters of Rebekah was the celebration Friday evening of their fifty-second anniversary. There was assembled in their hall in Hay building about 120 of the members and their families.

A very interesting program was carried out. Entertaining papers were read by Mrs. Robert Love and Mrs. M. H. Hennel. On the musical program were beautiful instrumental selections by Joseph Wright and daughters and Josepa Keagy; charming piano duets by Mrs. S. M. Snyder and Miss Irma Coe and by Miss Bernice Keagy and Miss Grace Wisenburg. A piece by little Miss Lucile Hunter on the piano, accompanied by her father Edward Hunter with the mouth harp elicited much applause. Refreshments were served a la Japanese fashion. Those who did not adopt the mode were deprived of supper. It was a delightful evening and enjoyed by everyone.

Thimble Club.

The Thimble club with a number of guests was charmingly entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. C. M. Hay at her home on Elm street.

The afternoon was most delightfully spent and a delicious supper was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Guy Meek. Those present were Mrs. Burt Voorhees, Mrs. Walter Winters, Mrs. William Merrell Mrs. T. L. Montgomery, Mrs. D. O. Thompson, Mrs. H. T. Weber, Mrs. J. P. Forbes, Mrs. H. B. Hay, Mrs. James Hay, Mrs. R. M. Love, Mrs. James Preston, Mrs. William Compton, Mrs. Elliott, Miss Nellie Cooper, Miss Sadie Smith, Miss Weltha Carr, Miss Louise Glover, Miss Helen Pomerene and Mrs. Haines, of Memphis, Tenn.

At Cards.

Miss Lucy Beach entertained a few guests at cards Friday evening at her home on South fourth street in honor of her brother, Mr. Clifton C. Beach and his bride.

The evening was pleasantly spent at cards and refreshments were served. Some charming piano selections were given by Miss Adams. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Torrens Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Speckman, Miss Ione Adams, Beryl Shaw and Melville Fisher.

Bowling Party.

The following young people, chaperoned by F. A. G. Lawrence and Miss Edith McNaughton, enjoyed a very pleasant hour at the Parkview Bowling alleys, Friday evening; Misses Daisy Wilcoxson, Agnes Hanlon, Carrie Patton, Nellie Gosser, Alma Temple, Eleanor Burns, Bessie

IT MATTERS NOT

How Sick You Are or How Many Physicians Have Failed to Help You.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy
will Cure You if a Cure is Possible.

Doctors are not infallible and there are many instances where they have decided a case was hopeless and then the patients astonished everyone by getting well and the sole cause of their cure was Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. A case in point is that of James Lettuce of Canajoharie, N. Y., who writes:

"Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and side that were fearful in the extreme. I could not control my kidneys at all and what came from them was mucous and blood. I was in a terrible state and suffered intensely. A prominent physician of Albany, N. Y., decided that an operation was all that would save me. I dreaded that and commenced to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I felt better almost instantly. When I had taken about two bottles, the flow from the bladder was much cleaner, the pain stopped, and I was saved from the surgeon's knife and am now well."

Dr. W. H. Morse, the famous physician of Westfield, N. J., has this to say of this great medicine:

"I have known it to cure chronic inflammation of the kidneys, where the attending physician pronounced the case incurable."

No form of kidney, liver, bladder or blood disease, or the distressing sicknesses so common to women, can long withstand the great curative power of this famous specific. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere.

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." The STAGE

On next Monday night, at the opera house we are to have a revival of that very funny musical farce, "The Two Johns" by J. C. Stewart. When first produced this comedy was one of the best and most successful on the road, and undoubtedly those who have seen it will want to see it again because it has always been clean and witty and not full of those vulgar situations that seem to predominate in the farces of today.

The different characters, from the two fat comers down to the policeman and all funny and plenty of pretty girls to help in the singing and dancing.

This comedy has been continually produced for ten years in this country and has toured England and Europe for the past ten years, and now returns to us for another tour. There certainly must be merit in a play to have such a continuous run of prosperity.

Alfred G. Robyn, who was one of the first of modern composers to write one of those characteristic and colorful intermezzi, which have since become so popular, has followed up "Mansanello" his first great success in that line by a similar composition though in another vein. This is entitled "San Domingo" and was written as a dance and enable number in the "Yonkee Consul" the new comic opera, which he has written in conjunction with Henry Blossom, Jr. This intermezzo, will doubtless become a favorite with orchestras all over the country, especially in restaurants of popular resort, where it will doubtless take its place besides the ever popular intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "La Paloma."

If you happen to see "The Wizard of Oz" company (B) on the road, don't fail to go to the show and hear the new song which has been interpolated, called "That Must Be Love." There was actually some talk of taking this catchy number out of the piece, but Alvin Crater has made such a tremendous hit with it that it has now become recognized as one of the big features of the production.

Most people who have watched the performance of "Arizona," have probably commented on the eccentric make-up of the cowboys who appear in the play and are probably of the opinion that their peculiar manner of dress is the result of vanity. This is not so by any means. Every article of their outlandish costumes are worn for a purpose. Take for instance the high heels worn on their riding boots, these are to prevent the foot from slipping through the stirrup in their mad rides in rounding up a herd of cattle; the leather and wolf skin side breeches are to protect their limbs from the sharp points of the prickly cactus and without the same an ordinary pair of trousers would be torn to tatters. The handkerchief which is always seen about the neck is also useful, as by pulling it up to cover mouth and nostrils it prevents the inhaling of the deadly alkali dust which gathers in great clouds out on the arid plains. The large sombrero is of course to keep off the hot burning rays of the sun which pours down upon them with a heat like flames from a red hot furnace; so as will be seen by this the costume is all a necessity.

Notice of proposed reinsurance of the Northern Central Life Insurance Company, of Toledo, Ohio, with the Pittsburg Life & Trust Company, of Pittsburg, Penn'a.

On September 8, the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company filed with Arthur L. Vorys, supt. of Insurance of the State of Ohio, a petition as authorized by Section No. 3597 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, praying for the approval (or modification thereof) of the agreement made by said Company with the Pittsburg Life & Trust Company on August 3rd, copy of which agreement was attached to said petition which agreement provides, among other things, that, for the consideration therein named, the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company transferred certain of its assets therein described to and reinsured its policy obligations with the said The Pittsburg Life & Trust Company.

Said Superintendent of Insurance thereupon made his order of notice, fixing Monday, October 5, 1902, at 10 o'clock A. M. and the Office of said Superintendent of Insurance in the State House, at Columbus, Ohio, as the time and place at which said petition shall be heard by the Commission authorized by law to determine upon the same, consisting of the Governor, the Attorney-General and the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, and requiring notice by mail to be given the policyholders of the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company of the pendency of said petition and such hearing and notice of same to be duly published, as required by law.

Any policyholder or stockholder of the said The Northern Central Life Insurance Company may appear before said Commission and be heard in reference to said petition. THE NORTHERN CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. By W. S. Matthews, President. John P. Slemmons, Secretary. 930.

Fountain Items.

The Big Store is the busiest store of Coshocton today. The hundred of customers that thronged the Fountain Saturday afternoon and evening know by their experience how difficult it was to get waited upon, even though we have a force of thirty people. Well, we are going to have more. We will put 50 sales people behind the counters if necessary to meet the demands of the public. Our constantly increasing business is most gratifying to the management of the Fountain D. G. Co. We believe now most people are glad they have the trading facilities now offered by the Fountain company. We do not believe a single enterprise has been injured by the opening of Coshocton's Big Store—to the contrary new trade is coming to Coshocton. Some people who heretofore have thought it necessary to go out of Coshocton are now being pleased in a most satisfactory way at the Fountain, all for which the Fountain is very thankful. We shall endeavor to conduct the business of the Big Store in such a manner that it will not only command the respect of the people of Coshocton but will bring hundreds of new customers to this market to do their shopping. It is only natural when they come to us for Dry Goods they will also buy Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Hardware, Jewelry and many other items from Coshocton's up-to-date merchants. No town in Ohio offers greater trading facilities in all the branches of commercial enterprise than Coshocton.

New Lines in all Departments.

During the past 10 days we have opened thousands of dollars worth of new merchandise, including Dress Goods, Silk and Velvets, Hosiery, Corsets, Neckwear, Belts, Stick Pins, Hat Pins, Waists, Flannelettes, Outing Flannel, Muslin, Cambrics, Underwear, Cotton and Wool Draperies, Rugs, Carpets, Suits, Cloaks, Furs and thousands of pieces of New China and House Furnishings. It would be impossible for us to enumerate every item we are showing, but we can assure you at the Fountain you can find one of the largest and best selected stock of goods you ever had the pleasure of looking at. We want you all to come to the Big Store to stop. Make the fountain your stopping place while in the city. You are always welcome. We will do our best to entertain you and make the burden of shopping as pleasant as possible. Trade at the Big Store. We appreciate your custom and will endeavor to give more than one hundred cents worth of goods for every dollar you leave with us. Your servants.

SOUR STOMACH.

When the quantity of the food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and when you feel fullness after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by C. E. Anderson.
